PEACE PLAN COMMENDED BY LEAGUE

Unanimous Approval Given by Disarmament Committee to French Project for "Graduated" Security

DISARMAMENT NOT TO COME SPEEDILY

Preparatory Commission to Centre Its Activities on Extension of Arbitration Agreements All Round

GENEVA, Sept. 21.—The weaving of the peace fabric at Geneva advanced swiftly today, bringing out in sharp relief the colors of arbitration and security as vital elements to the completed tapestry, of which disarmament constitutes the third necessary element.

Unanimous approval was given by the League of Nations Disarmament Committee to a project, introduced in its original form by the French delegation, whereby the League's preparatory commission, while arranging for a general conference on limitation and reduction of armaments, will simultaneously centre its activities on extension of arbitration agreements and a graduated system of security among the nations.

TECHNICAL WORK

A most comprehensive resolution, which is considered certain to be approved by the Assembly, was adopted today, requesting the Council of the League to urge the preparatory commission, on which the United States is represented, to hasten completion of its technical work, thus enabling the Council to convene a conference for the limitation and reduction of armaments at the earliest possible date.

While the United States is expected actively to continue its co-operation with the Disarmament Commission, the Washington Government is not expected to assume membership in another special commission which the resolution envisages. This commission will discuss the best means of developing a workable system of arbitration and security between the nations. It will labor simultaneously with the main preparatory commission, but its membership will be restricted to experts belonging to the League, and its work will be confined to the technical aspects of the problem.

RESIDENT COSGRAVE AND MR. DE VALERA MEET IN CONFERENCE

CORK, Irish Free State, Sept. 21.—President Cosgrave, whose Government came out victorious by a small margin in the recent general election, and Eamon de Valera, Republican leader, who heads the opposition, have been invited to attend a conference here on Friday to consider the economic position of the country and the question of conciliation and unity. The invitation emanates from Mr. J. P. Daly, chairman of the Cork Harbor Board, who, at a meeting today, appealed for unity by the political parties in the national interest.

CLASH IN BALKANS

BELGRADE, Sept. 21.—A night on clash between a strong hard Bulgarian militia, or border guards, and Yugoslavian police yesterday followed the explosion of a bomb last night on the railway line from Ougueli to Skoplje, near Strumitsa, just as an express train was passing.

Strong reinforcements have been sent to the district.

In the explosion the tender was torn from a locomotive and thrown over an embankment. No one was injured.

The outrage is attributed here to supporters of a Macedonian revolutionary committee.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21.—Eight paintings from the brush of John Innes, portraying epoch-making scenes in the early history of this province, were presented to the University of British Columbia today.

The idea of perpetuating to all future generations in this province the chief exploits connected with the early days of the Hudson's Bay Company, Governor Charles V. Sale, of that company made the presentation. The presentation was made at the library of the University, where the paintings were on view.

"The art survivals of Greece and Rome were the greatest testimony of their former existence and prominence," said Magistrate H. C. Shaw, K.C., in accepting the paintings on behalf of the Board of Governors.

FOUR PILOTS ARE WINNERS IN AIR DERBY

In New York - Spokane
Races Holman Leads Class
A, and Meyers Is Probable Winner in Class B

BALLOUGH LOSES BY BAD LANDING

In San Francisco-Spokane Races Lippitt Takes Award for Class A, and Langdon for Class B

SPOKANE, Sept. 21.—Flashing into the lead in the class A race in the New York-Spokane air derby, when E. E. Balloough, of Chicago, who led the field all the way from New York to Butte, made a false landing at Butte and broke his propeller. C. W. Holman, of St. Paul, arrived here first at 2:46 o'clock this afternoon and won the $10,000 prize.

Spokane's "favorite son" entrant, N. B. Mamer, who also placed Balloough, while he was delayed an hour to replace his propeller, was second, arriving at 3:10, and for a time was acclaimed by joy-maddened fellow townsmen as second place winner, with his $5,000 prize. When Balloough pulled in at 3:42, however, Referee E. A. Goff, Jr., announced that on the basis of elapsed time, Balloough was the second place winner and Mamer was third.

John P. Wood, of Wausau, Wis., was unofficially announced as fourth when he arrived at 3:50. Trailing Wood in were E. K. Campbell, of Moline, Ill., at 4:35:13; E. H. Lee, fellow townsman of Balloough, at 4:35:23; James Ray, of Philadelphia, at 4:37, and E. W. Cleveland, of Cleveland, O., at 5:25.

Owing to lack of information from control stations as to the time of arrival and departure of the three last finishers, Referee Goff was unable to compute their elapsed time and to determine accurately the order in which they finished.

Third prize in this race is $2,000; fourth prize is $1,000, and fifth prize is $500.

CLASS B FROM NEW YORK

C. W. Meyers, of Detroit, is almost certain as winner of the class B New York derby. Referee Goff said, although necessary information for computation of the elapsed time of any of the contestants in the flight was unavailable. Mr. Goff said, that since Meyers was first out each morning all the way across the course, and in one case at least half an hour ahead of his nearest competitor, he was confident he would prove to be the winner of the first prize of $5,000.

On the same basis he figured that Leslie Miller, of Des Moines, Iowa, should be second and be winner of the $3,000 prize, and J. S. Charles, of Richmond, Va., third with a $1,000 prize.

SAN FRANCISCO, CLASS "A"

N. C. Lippitt, of Los Angeles, preceding his nearest competitor in the San Francisco Class "A" race by nearly twenty-three minutes, and beating his elapsed time by about thirty-four minutes, flashed across the finish line for first place and the $15,000 prize. He arrived at 2:17 and was followed at 2:40 by Lee Storchheim, of Los Angeles.

Nearly an hour and a half elapsed before the next contestant, Vance Breese, of San Francisco, came in at 4:07. Jack Frye, of Los Angeles, followed him a minute later, and only about a minute's difference in elapsed time, in Breese's favor, separated them.

Norman Loddard, San Diego, failed to arrive before dark and was unreported somewhere between here and Portland, Ore. He was the only other contestant in the Class "A" race.

Second prize in this race was $10,000 and third prize $5,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, CLASS "B"

C. L. Langdon, of Aberdeen, Wash., first of the Class "B" coast derby flew to reach here, and was followed at 3:01. The next man, C. W. Warren, of San Francisco, came in nearly twenty minutes later, and Lee Wiley, of Los Angeles, followed him a minute later. Their elapsed time placed them in that standing in the race, Langdon having ten hours to his credit, Warren eighteen minutes more, and Wiley nine minutes more than Langdon.

MANY DIE IN MISSION FIRE

Flames Break Out at Midnight in Building Occupied by 65 Indian Children, 16 Monks and Nuns

THIRD BLAZE IN LAST THREE YEARS

PRINCE ALBERT, Sept. 21.—Nineteen children and Sister Lea were burned to death, and a priest whose name has not been learned, was so seriously burned he is not expected to survive, while they slept in the mission, when a fire broke out at midnight in the dormitory of the late Beaulieu Catholic Mission on Lac Ronge, Monday night, according to word brought by launch which made the 120-mile trip to Big River, Sask., today. Forty-six children were saved.

The launch came out for supplies and clothing and these on board were able to save most of the children. The tragedy, Dr. A. Amyot, who had gone to the La Crosse, fifty miles north of Lac Ronge, to home near Grey Nuns hospital at that place, was transported in the La Ronge Mission by airplane.

THE FIRE

According to the fragmentary reports the fire broke out at midnight in the boys' dormitory. The flames leaped upward, and a fire structure and within a few minutes were roaring hungrily through the building. The leaping flames and their reflection from the waters of the lake lit up a scene of horror. The children who made their way to safety from the blazing building huddled in the circle of light and heard the screams of those trapped in the flames. There was nothing that could be done to help, as the furious heat prevented any attempt to enter the mission, and the fire structure was a mass of ruins. It is understood that all the children at the mission were Indians, but their names were not obtained.

Government officials and telephone companies put forth every effort to get additional information of the tragedy today but a few details trickled out.

THE MISSION

The Beaulieu Mission is in charge of Father La Jeunesse, of the Oblate Fathers, who is assisted by Father Ansel and Father Adam, eight brothers of the order, and eight nuns of the Grey Nuns Order. In the mission were Sister Superior Raymond, and Sisters Robinson, Cecile, Carrier, Adelin, Cartier, Froude and Lea. The mission is one of the oldest in the North. The buildings were of lumber construction, heated on the hot air principle.

The fire was the third to occur in the last three years.

Need of "Temperance Work"
at Present Time

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 21.—Beginning her presidential address at the provincial conference of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Olivet Baptist Church, Mrs. J. A. Gillespie, president of the organization, stressed the need of the "temperance work" at present time.

"One of the finest courses in the world," were Mrs. Gillespie's remarks, "and that is the temperance course, and that is going to be my main activity as long as I am here." Mrs. Gillespie was equally as pleased with the course, and said that she had a hard time keeping her eye on the ball as the gorgeous scenery to be viewed from her point on her golf course.

SILK TRAIN IN COSTLY WRECK

No Lives Lost—Five Cars Dropped Fraser Near Yale—Five Left on River Bank

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21.—Raw silk valued at $250,000 is lying in the Fraser River and on the bank of the stream, near Yale, east of here, as the result of the wreck of a Canadian Pacific Railway special silk train which left Vancouver at 11 o'clock this morning. The train, which consisted of eighteen cars, destroyed telegraph communication along the Canadian Pacific track when five cars lurched down the bank. Five cars tumbled into the turbulent waters of the Fraser River, while the five others were arrested in their fall by rocks and trees. The eight cars which remained on the bank were pushed on to the East at 4:30 this afternoon.

TO BE SALVAGED

The C. P. R. officials expect the greater part of the valuable freight will be salvaged, as the steel cars making up the silk train were only partly smashed.

The derailment occurred about two miles east of Yale and was caused, it is believed, by either a broken rail or a broken car wheel.

Reports indicate that the train was traveling along the river bank at a rapid speed, when the accident occurred.

The crew coach, a colonist car which was at the rear of the train, did not leave the rails. It is only because of this, it is said, that there was no loss of life.

"One of the finest courses in the world," were His Excellency's remarks, "and that is the temperance course, and that is going to be my main activity as long as I am here." Mrs. Gillespie was equally as pleased with the course, and said that she had a hard time keeping her eye on the ball as the gorgeous scenery to be viewed from her point on her golf course.

LEADER MUST GET 800 VOTES

National Conservative Convention in Winnipeg Will Have Voting Strength of 1,578. It Is Estimated

ELECTION LIKELY ON OCTOBER 12

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—The new leader of the Conservative party will probably be selected at the Winnipeg convention on Wednesday afternoon, October 12. This, at least, is the date suggested in a tentative programme, which is being prepared by Gen. A. D. McRae, chairman of the Conservative organization committee. Nominations for leadership, according to the tentative programme, would take place in the evening of the preceding day.

Each member, second and candidate would speak that night. The suggestion is that each nominating speech be limited to ten minutes, each speech by a speaker to five minutes, and the address of the candidate to twenty minutes. This arrangement is in accordance with suggestions that some time should elapse between actual nominations, followed by speeches, and the balloting for the party leadership.

BALLOTTING STRENGTH

WINNIPEG, Sept. 21.—Authorized delegates at the national Conservative convention, which opens in Winnipeg, October 10, will have a balloting strength of 1,578 votes. This includes privy councilors and senators.

The appointment of representatives by provinces is as follows: Manitoba 185; Saskatchewan 130; Alberta 98; British Columbia 87; Yukon 6; Prince Edward Island 25; Nova Scotia 89; New Brunswick 71; Quebec 401; Ontario 506. Each of the 245 federal constituencies is to be represented by four appointed delegates, one delegate at large, and one ex-officio, six in all. The ex-officio delegate is either the sitting member of the House of Commons or the defeated Conservative candidate at the Dominion election of 1926.

800 VOTES REQUIRED

With a full representation, practically eight hundred votes will be necessary to constitute a majority on the election of the leader or on any other issue which may come before the convention. The total voting strength may be varied slightly by the final checkup of the accredited delegates on arrival of the national committee, which will take up headquarters here on or before October 9.

Alternates have been named in each riding. If the full number of delegates and their substitutes were to attend more than 3,100 would be present.

METHOD OF VOTING

The question of the method of voting will be left to the convention. Two suggestions will, however, be made to the assembled delegates upon which they will be asked to decide. One is that the lowest man on each ballot should automatically retire, and the other is that all candidates should remain in the voting until one nominee receives a majority over all.

Joint chairmen—one English speaking and the other French speaking—are suggested. The tentative programme also provides for the election of a deputy chairman from each of the other provinces.

Company Is Reducing Work At Jordan River

Construction work in connection with the reconditioning of the Jordan River Flume is gradually slowing down for the winter, the sawmill, which supplies the material for the wooden flume, already having been shut down. During the season a considerable amount of work has been done, and certain other undertakings will be completed before the winter sets in. Mr. G. M. Tripp, general superintendent, announces, explaining that the gradual renewal of the flume will occupy five years.

NEW ZEALAND HAS NAVY TAX

PREMIER INTRODUCES NAVAL DEFENCE PROPOSALS IN PARLIAMENT

Will Make Dominion's Expenditure on Naval Defence About $2.50 Per Capita

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Sept. 21.—Premier Coates today introduced the House of Representatives the Government's naval defence proposals, whose chief feature is a contribution by New Zealand to the Singapore naval base. The Premier said that the proposals would bring New Zealand's expenditure on naval defence up to ten shillings (about $2.50) per capita. No affront to Japan was contemplated in any way by the construction of the Singapore base, he said, adding that Japan's action in the great war had been unforfeitable, especially the visit of Japanese warships to New Zealand waters to assist in the conveying of troops.

Considering the long trade routes to be defended by Great Britain, Premier Coates said New Zealand was going to shoulder a fair share of the Imperial budget.

The proposals were adopted by the House, 51 to 10.

FIRST INSTRUCTIONAL AIR-PLANE NOW EN ROUTE TO EVE BROTHERS HERE

Driggs Dart Machine Already Shipped From Factory—Sea-plane is Ordered

Victoria's first instructional airplane will arrive here at the beginning of next week, Eve Brothers, automobile dealers, who have secured the local agency for several American airplanes, announced yesterday.

Eve Brothers' first machine, a Driggs Dart, has been shipped from the factory at Lansing, Michigan, and is now en route to this city.

This machine, fitted with landing wheels and dual control, will be used for instructional purposes. At the present time, Mr. A. H. Wilson, former R.N.A.S. pilot, who will instruct for Eve Brothers, is at the factory at Lansing, studying the Driggs Dart type of machine.

The airplane will be shown in Eve Brothers' show rooms for several days after its arrival before being taken out to the new airport on Shelbourne Street, near the Normal School, for the commencement of flying operations.

The Driggs Dart land plane is powered with a forty-five horsepower Anzani motor. It has a ceiling of 18,000 feet, a cruising speed of ninety miles an hour, and a cruising radius of about 275 miles.

A Driggs Dart IIA seaplane is now being prepared for Eve Brothers at the Lansing factory. It will be fitted with a ninety-five horsepower Anzani "Alcatraz" motor and will have approximately the same ceiling, speed and cruising radius as the land machine. It will seat two persons.

Eve Brothers have not yet determined the site of their proposed seaplane base.

VITAMIN CONTENT OF APPLES GREAT

By DR. FREDERICK KINCAID, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

One of the special reasons why apples are such an important article of food, and why we cannot afford to omit them from our daily diet, is because of their abundant content of vitamins.

It is known that vitamins are absolutely essential to our health and that, whatever else we eat, we must be sure to include foods which contain sufficient amount of these vital elements. The exact nature of vitamins is not yet determined. They are not susceptible to ordinary chemical analysis like the other constituents of food, but it has been established that there is a remarkable connection between them and sunlight, and that they are, in fact, derived directly from the sun's rays.

Since we must have vitamins in our diet, it follows that the most valuable foods are likely to be those which, in their development, have had the greatest opportunity of absorbing from the sun. This is found to be the case and apples, which develop slowly while the fruit and the leaves are bathed in the life-giving rays, contain an abundant supply of the essential vitamins. All living things derive the energy which activates them from the rays of the sun. Human beings depend on sunlight for the growth and health and an insufficient supply results in under-development, disease and death. The rays are absorbed by the blood as it circulates through the skin and immediately subcutaneous tissues and the energy thus collected is transmitted into other forms, such as heat, chemical changes, etc., and is carried by the blood to all the muscles, nerves, organs and every part of the whole body.

Exactly the same thing takes place in the case of trees and plants, the blood in animals being represented by a substance known as chlorophyll. This substance, circulating in the leaves, absorbs the sun's rays and converts them into the required form of energy. It is through the action of the sun that the tree grows and develops its fruit, and the more sunlight the better the apple. But the leaves absorb more of this vital energy than is required by the tree for the performance of its own functions and a considerable balance is stored in the apples in the form of vitamins, thus enormously increasing their value as a food. A most interesting and instructive experience has been reported authoritatively from a large English school for boys. During one winter season the conduct and health of the boys was noticeably unsatisfactory. They became more and more slack in work and play and increasingly discontented and irritable. An unusual amount of sickness occurred and the general standard fell much below the normal. Various attempts were made to explain and remedy the condition, but without avail, until, at last, a modern dietitian was consulted. To the uninitiated it seemed that the diet was satisfactory and that the boys were being well fed, but it was found by the expert that there was a deficiency of food containing one of the most important of the vitamins. It appeared that the boys had formerly made up for this deficiency by purchasing apples from a nearby store, but that this had been closed for some time with the result that the disturbing condition of their health had become more and more marked. Upon provision of a liberal supply of apples the whole trouble quickly disappeared.

Railway Commissioners' Reasons for Decisions Are Given to Public by Board

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—Reasons for judgment in the general freight rates case were made public today by the Board of Railway Commissioners. The judgment itself was handed down on August 26, following an extensive investigation of railway freight rates throughout the Dominion.

Chief Commissioner McKeown, in his reasons now issued, sets out the following circumstances: "From a consideration of all that is involved in the above discussion, I have arrived at the conclusion that the following features of the present freight rates system necessitate alteration in order to effect the establishment of a fair and reasonable structure which will in substantially similar circumstances and conditions, be equal in its application to all persons and localities and permit of the freest possible exchange of commodities between the various provinces of the Dominion and the expansion of its trade both foreign and domestic, namely:

"1. The export grain rates over the National Transcontinental to Eastern Canada seaports from the point of origin to the point of destination should not be greater by way of Canadian ports than by way of United States ports.

"2. The mountain differential against the Pacific districts should be abolished.

"3. The Western grain and flour rates to Port William and Port Arthur should be equalized to the present Canadian Pacific main line basis of rates which should be extended to all Canadian Pacific branch lines from points of equivalent mileage routings and all other railway companies should be directed to adjust their grain and flour rates to Port William and Port Arthur to the rates so put into effect by the C.P.R.

"4. The town tariffs directed in the judgment of the Western rates case as regards the C.P.R. should be made applicable to the C.N.R."

Regarding the transcontinental rate scale, and the different standard mileages east and west, Chief Commissioner McKeown said no reasons had been urged sufficient to make it desirable that these should be eliminated or changed, as urged by various petitioners.

COMMISSIONER McLEAN

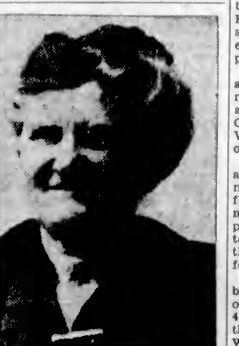

Assistant Chief Commissioner McLean, after a resume of the whole question, concluded by saying he agreed in the rulings set out in the judgment of the Chief Commissioner in regard to the transcontinental rate scale, terminal tariffs, different standard mileages east and west, and domestic grain rates to British Columbia.

IT IS WITHIN YOUR POWER TO ENJOY HEALTH

Hundreds Know That Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bowel Ailments Can Be Relieved by the Husky Treatment.

It is within the power of every man and woman to rid themselves of suffering and to enjoy health if they are afflicted with stomach, liver, kidney or bowel ailments or many of mankind's common ills. Health is within your power if you will turn to Husky, the true medicine, distributed by the MacFarlane Drug Co.

Through the use of Husky hundreds are enjoying relief from stomach, liver, kidney and bowel ailments and such common ills as headaches, indigestion, gas and sour stomach, constipation, rheumatic pains, nervousness, unsound sleep and weak, tired feelings. Hundreds in Victoria and vicinity know that Husky gives them relief, and one of this number is Mrs. Jacob Chipe, who resides in Esquimalt. She has the following to say:

MRS. IRENE TODD

Another remarkable Husky experience is that enjoyed by Mrs. Todd, who through the use of this preparation has gained relief from her stomach, gas and other digestive troubles, which afflicted her for eighteen years.

Of her own experience with Husky: "I was suffering from constipation and indigestion and was feeling just as bad as these troubles can make one feel. No food seemed to agree and when I ate a meal I knew suffering was going to follow. I had severe dizzy spells and often felt so weak and tired that I didn't want to move."

"I suffered for a long time before I tried Husky, but now I agree with the other Husky users that this is a wonderful medicine. It has given me real relief from my troubles and even the dizzy spells don't appear any more. I am really feeling like a different person and I know others will speak of Husky just as highly as I do when they give it a trial."

COMMISSIONER VIEN

Commissioner Vien said he entirely adopted the reasoning of the Chief Commissioner as to extension to the C.P.R. branch lines of the present C.P.R. main line basis of rates on grain and flour to Port William and Vancouver for export and as to directions given other railways to adjust their rates accordingly and also as to extension to the C.N.R. of provisions of the judgment in the Western rates case in regard to distributing tariffs as well as disposition made in regard to transcontinental rates and terminal rates from Port William to Vancouver.

"I am also of the opinion that the application to reduce rates on grain westbound for domestic consumption to the level of rates on grain westbound for export should be dismissed."

COMMISSIONER BOYCE

In the course of his conclusions, Commissioner Boyce said: "I am opposed to the removal of the mountain differential rates, and to the extension of Crow's Nest rates, or any export rates built up on or on a parity with those rates from Armstrong, Port William or Port Arthur, to the Maritime ports and those applications fail, and should be dismissed."

"As to export grain rates westbound to Pacific ports, for the reasons stated I think that the logical basis of rates is that prescribed by the board in its 1922 judgment. I have referred to. If these rates were to be put up on the same basis as rates eastward to Port William, Canadian National mileage, Edmonton to Vancouver, should govern the C.P.R. rate, Calgary to Vancouver—766 miles.

"I am willing, under the special circumstances shown, though with some misgivings, that the Canadian National Railways be ordered to publish a tariff showing a rate of 18.34¢ per one hundred pounds on export grain from Port Arthur, Port William and Armstrong, Ontario, to the city of Quebec and that all railways file a tariff showing the same export rates to Quebec port as to Montreal on export grain from Bay points and all export traffic from Toronto and points west thereof.

"In making these observations I have endeavored to keep in view that the investigation required to be made by the order-in-council of the Canadian Freight Rates structure calls only for the conclusions of the board as the body consisted under the Railway Act, with full power to fix, determine and enforce just and reasonable rates. No question of public policy is within the scope of the investigation."

COMMISSIONER LAWRENCE

Commissioner Lawrence concurs in the judgment of the commissioners on the following questions: (a) Transcontinental rate scale; (b) terminal tariffs; (c) different standard mileages east and west; (d) domestic grain rates to British Columbia.

COMMISSIONER OLIVER

Commissioner Oliver first dealt with rates eastbound on grain and flour from the Prairies to Lake Superior.

On the matter of rates westbound from the Prairies to Pacific ports, Commissioner Oliver states: "I am of opinion that action should be taken to bring about results as follows:

(1) The Canadian Pacific Railway is required to comply with the order of the board of September 2, 1925, by reducing the export rate on grain and flour from Prairie points on their main line to Vancouver to the per mile rate now in force from Prairie points on their main line to Port William.

Also that if, in pursuance of an order of the board changes are made in their export rates on grain and flour from Prairie points to Port William, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific, the export rates westbound should forthwith be made to conform with such changes.

(2) The Canadian National Railways be notified that the same per mile rates are to be made effective forthwith from Prairie points to Vancouver.

(3) That the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways be notified that rates on grain and flour for domestic use shall not be more than three cents per 100 pounds higher from Prairie points to Vancouver than the rates from the same points on grain and flour for export.

"Provided that the rate on grain and flour for domestic use shall not be below export quality, that is, of a quality below the grade of No. 4 Northern and other grains below grade of No. 3 C.W. (Canada Western), shall not exceed the export rate."

That the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways be notified that rates on grain and flour for domestic use shall not be more than three cents per 100 pounds higher from Prairie points to Vancouver than the rates from the same points on grain and flour for export.

MR. H. D. REID IS GIVEN ADDRESS

Poultry Association of Province Recognizes Excellent Work Done in Handling Birds

The British Columbia Poultry Association, in recognition of the excellent work done by Mr. H. D. Reid, of Victoria, who had charge of the car of poultry sent from this province to the World's Poultry Show at Ottawa, has presented him with an illuminated address and a diploma. The association went on record as appreciating the excellent way in which the carload of birds was handled and the fact that the car was sent from the province as representative of British Columbia and of the association had been taken care of in transit to and from the exhibition.

While there was a report that there had been some loss of birds on the way back this, it is stated, was a mistake. All of them returned in excellent condition. This year at the Provincial Poultry Show which will be held in Vancouver at the same time as the Winter Fair in that city, early in December, all the judging will be done by British Columbia experts. In the past there has been outside judges brought in to pass upon the birds, but it is felt that the province has just as competent judges to appraise exhibits as can be obtained outside of British Columbia.

There are now thirty local associations affiliated with the provincial association. At the time of the exhibition the meeting of the central body will take place, when the election of officers will be held. This election is held every two years.

An invitation is extended to any who are interested.

CABINET RECONSTRUCTION

It does not come as any particular revelation that Mr. Charles Woodward, one of the members for Vancouver, should have written of the drifting policy of the Liberal Party in this Province. Mr. Woodward, no doubt, has done what he could in a quiet way to get his viewpoint before the Government. That he has failed to have his advice listened to is indicated by the publication of a letter from him to Premier Maclean, a letter written when the Government was acting as a whole. Mr. Woodward brings forward the old argument of Cabinet representation for Vancouver, a matter which has been overlooked for several years. As a quid pro quo for lack of such representation the present Premier sits at the Court House in Vancouver for some hours weekly to listen to grievances, to adjust differences and to act, as it were, in lieu of having Vancouver represented in the Cabinet.

Mr. Woodward believes that the Liberal Party is getting into deep waters. He should know because he is in its councils. He is to be commended for having spoken in such an outright fashion, and political acumen will be shown if the Government takes his advice, no matter how unpalatable it may be, especially when the letter in which it is offered discloses internal weaknesses which possibly some of the Liberal Party have not suspected. He wants Cabinet representation for both Vancouver and New Westminster. In regard to the latter city we believe it is the intention of the Government to take Mr. Wells Gray into the Ministry. What plans there are regarding Vancouver have not yet been disclosed. Mr. Woodward's advice is that the weakest Cabinet Minister should resign and make way for a Vancouver representative. He does not say who the weakest is, but there are many who will be able to make a shrewd guess. Those who are able will wonder why Dr. MacLean did not seize upon the opportunity afforded by his summons to the leadership to reconstruct the Cabinet of British Columbia.

The Liberal Party's retention of the New Westminster seat at the recent by-election has not strengthened its cause in the Province. It could be strengthened in some respects by Cabinet reconstruction. We recall that the late Premier Oliver said once that in the Liberal representation in the Legislature there was as good Cabinet material outside the Government as in the Ministry. We are willing to believe this because Mr. Oliver was an able judge of men. The point is, however, that so long as Vancouver remains unrepresented in the Cabinet there will be friction in the relationship between the Government and the most populous city of the Province.

Mr. Woodward realizes this. He is fully persuaded, too, that the Cabinet can be strengthened, and he has had the courage to say so in open fashion. The Liberal Party, as a whole, endeavors always to create the impression that all is for the best in the "best of all possible Governments." It is refreshing to have a prominent member of that party courageous enough to tell the public that the Liberal Party, by its policy of drift, is getting into deep waters and to offer constructive suggestions as to how matters affecting the Government of British Columbia may be improved. Mr. Woodward does not say so, but probably believes that the best way to clear up the present questionable situation would be for the Liberal Government to seek a new mandate from the people without delay.

LADIES' MUSICAL CLUB

The reputation which Victoria enjoys as a musical centre is not one which should be allowed to suffer any diminution. This city is recognized all over Canada, not only as a place where there is considerable musical talent but as a centre of appreciation and judgment in musical matters. The best artists who tour the continent are glad to come here because they know that they will face audiences who will be able to appraise their merits and that they will receive the recognition that is their due. That this is the case is because of the people's love and understanding of music and because, as well, what certain societies and organizations in our midst have done through the years to raise the standard of taste and to educate public appreciation.

No organization has done more towards encouraging music of a high character in Victoria than the Ladies' Musical Club. Its destiny has always been guided by enthusiasts; it has been well managed and it has always striven to encourage talent, and especially the talent which is found at home. It has been the medium through which world artists have been brought to Victoria and the citizens are indebted to the energies of the club for some of the happiest and most educative evenings of their lives. The club is deserving of encouragement and it should never appear for popular support in vain. For the coming season it has arranged a programme of concerts, each one of which will appeal to all music lovers, and by music lovers we mean those who have a cultural sense of the art. Music has become a necessary concomitant to life itself; it is an appeal to the finer feelings which lifts mankind out of the monotony of every-day experiences. In providing a programme of high-class concerts for our citizenship the Ladies' Musical Club is performing an ennobling work. It is not a money-making organization. It simply wishes, because of the love of its members for music, to afford the people enjoyment in that regard that they would not otherwise have unless such an organization was responsible. To make its concerts a success public co-operation is needed. It should only be necessary to emphasize this to rally all music lovers to the cause.

BIASED HISTORY TEACHING

A friendly controversy on a subject of great interest to teachers who specialize in history, besides having far-reaching implications because of its bearing on what, for a better name may be called "the cult of patriotism," has recently been going on in The Morning Post between Professor Morrison, Professor of History at Armstrong College, and Mr. J. S. Martin, Organist at St. John's College, Cambridge. In an appendix to the Memorandum on the Schools and the Peace of the World, presented to the British Board of Education jointly by the various Teachers' Associations and the League of Nations' Union, Mr. Martin pointed out that the teacher and the writer of history textbooks is obliged, from the magnitude of his subject, to make some choice as to the parts of history he will teach, and he suggested that this being so he might select more often than he does the instances in history of international intercourse, and less often those of national conflict. He sees, for instance, the Roman Catholic Church, the Crusades, and the Renaissance as supreme examples of the common cause of mankind, and he complains that history books dwell not upon this aspect, but upon the conflicts of those periods.

Professor Morrison protests against Mr. Martin's suggestions as "the misuse of an educational system in pursuit of something else than truth, sought in the spirit of truth," and adds that this "is an attempt to falsify history, in the interests of peace." Against this charge the League of Nations' Union entered a vigorous protest. At the same time a nice point has been raised which goes beyond this question. As a matter of fact the unbiased teacher and the unbiased historian are merely ideal figures. No one of us is unbiased, and we have to correct our facts for bias from whatever quarter we get them. The history taught in schools is frequently biased, if unconsciously so, and the difficulty is that the teacher in dealing with children is dealing with minds which are at once unwary and impressionable. Never was there a time when the teaching of history demands more particular care to be fair in the presentation of historical facts and the deductions to be drawn from them, than the present. The hastening of the day of complete international understanding rests very largely with the teacher and the responsible press of the world. Both in their respective spheres have an influence which is incalculable.

Trousers have only been worn by menfolk for a century. They came in, first, in the reign of King George III, but that monarch did not approve of them and banned them from his Court. By that action he established the precedent that knee-breeches are essential with Court dress. Shorts or knee-breeches go back to the reign of Henry VIII, and perhaps earlier. At all events they have a history of four centuries. Shorts are the handiest garments and probably the healthiest that can be worn for the nether limbs. The easiest thing in the world is to effect a revolution in woman's dress; on the other hand it is the hardest thing imaginable to change the general style of men's fashions. Men continue to dress in a way that is anything but hygienic. Probably the reason is that they are vainier than women. The collar and tie habit alone is the mark of man's servitude to his own susceptibilities.

In the main what the Conservative Party of the Dominion will reaffirm at the forthcoming Winnipeg convention is the platform upon which it has stood for so many years. It will continue to stand for the retention of Canada's home market for Canada's producers. It will reaffirm its belief in the conservation of the country's raw materials in the interest of Canadian industries. Moreover, it will continue to advocate greater interprovincial trade so that the bonds of Confederation may be strengthened, and it will again emphasize its whole-hearted support of the British connection. These are among the cardinal principles to which it will renew adherence, and there is not one of them which does not mean greater prosperity for the country.

Mr. Winston Churchill's criticism of Mr. Lloyd George's various land policies is characteristic. The Chancellor of the Exchequer says that in balancing the next Budget he will have nothing to do with any land schemes that may be promulgated to raise votes rather than crops.

THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION

Liberals as well as Conservatives will wish that the coming Conservative convention may succeed in formulating, in the matter of tariff proposals, a policy better than that contained in the Liberal programme. Likewise, both parties will hope to see enunciated in its programme a policy which will settle the divergent claims of the Eastern, Central and Western divisions of Canada, a rational policy which will result in the complete rehabilitation of the finances of the National Railway, and a rational policy which will advance the material progress and prosperity of all the provinces of the Dominion. In a sentence, it is to be hoped that the Winnipeg convention will succeed in elaborating a programme which will advance the general welfare of the country. It is not a question of party, but a simple question of business.—La Patrie.

STUPIDITY AT THE WHEEL

Many people are driving cars who are not fit to drive cattle. Licensing all drivers is a step in the right direction, but it will not be effective if it is not followed up by a ruthless cancellation of licenses where drivers are shown to be reckless and utterly indifferent to the rights of others who enjoy the privilege of using the King's highway.—Toronto Telegram.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

In the good old days when knights were bold and ladies fair and the common people were ruled by arbitrary measures, there may have been some political abuses, but there were no political campaign funds. There was no necessity for campaign funds, because there were no elections. Political campaign funds are therefore the ripe, or the unripe, or the rotten, fruits of democracy. Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, of England and Wales, like the political campaign fund, is one of the choice fruits of democracy. He is the custodian of the greatest political campaign fund of which there is any official record—for there is no official record of the billion dollar campaign funds of the Republican or the Democratic political parties of the United States. Neither is there any official record of the funds contributed to the party chest of the Provincial Liberal Party of British Columbia merely "for Protection and Assurance."

Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George is charged with having collected his grand and unique political campaign fund when he was the leader of the late Unionist Government. That grand and unique campaign fund is said to have been the product of a generous sale of titles and honors to proud and ambitious Britons. As a result of the fluctuating fortunes of political warfare Mr. David Lloyd George became a political fugitive. The Liberals did not want him in their camp and the Laborites refused to have commerce or intercourse with him. But wherever Mr. George went he carried his political campaign fund with him, and he invested it so astutely that it is now dazzling in its proportions and splendor.

The magnificence of that campaign fund blinded the eyes of the Liberal Party to any of the alleged imperfections of Mr. George as a party politician. So Mr. George is a Liberal again and his political campaign fund is at the disposition of the members of the Liberal Party, subject to the approval of the custodian of the fund, Mr. George insists upon remaining custodian of the purse, for much money is an important factor in assuring loyalty to the sublime principles of democracy.

A provincial contemporary, discussing the question of political campaign funds, declares that while such funds are an evil they are a necessary. Every political party must collect campaign funds to meet expenditures which are necessary in elections—that is every political party except the Liberal Party of Great Britain, which has been permanently endowed with a munificent campaign fund through the enterprise and resourcefulness of Mr. David Lloyd George. Curiously enough, the contemporary in question blames the people and not the politicians for the evils of the campaign funds. It says the people know quite well that elections are not won by prayer, and yet the people neglect to provide the politicians with legitimate campaign funds. Which of course is arrant nonsense. If the politicians are to be provided with campaign funds in a regular way, the provision must be made by the Legislatures, which are controlled by the politicians. Therefore it is not the people who are responsible for the campaign fund evils, for the people have no direct control over the Legislatures and but little control over the politicians after they are elected to the Legislatures.

We do not admit that there is any absolute necessity for the collection campaign funds. If the democratic system of government and administration were functioning as it was originally intended to function elections would be so simple that the only cost attached to them would be the cost of recording and counting the votes. Under the complex system which has developed from the originally simple system political parties assume that they must identify and tag all the voters and marshal them to the polling booths. Candidates for election must hold and address meetings of the electors. There is no absolute necessity for such things; except the alleged necessity of educating and enlightening the people and the real necessity in most cases of befogging the senses and confusing the minds of the people. The result of elections probably would be more satisfactory if the electors were permitted to form their own conclusions respecting the merits of candidates and policies and to cast their ballots in accordance with their honestly acquired convictions.

At any rate, Legislatures cannot take cognizance of political parties and vote money to meet their campaign expenses. Campaign funds cannot be killed in that way. If any Government in control of a Legislature were to propose such a thing, controversial questions as to the relative proportions of the political parties and the campaign funds allotted to them would arise, and agreement would be impossible. There is therefore only one way to rid the country of campaign fund abuses and scandals. That is by way of reversion to the old simple democratic system of conducting elections. There is no hope of anything of that kind, for political machinery is increasing in complexity and in cost of operation.

SUFFOLK SHEEP

Sir—In your report on the Sheep Fair at Duncan, held recently, the following appeared:

"Captain E. E. Barkley, of Westholme, gave a very good example in his entry of grade Suffolk of what can be done in improving a grade flock by using purebred rams."

I would like to point out that Captain Barkley only obtained fourth prize for his pen of grade Suffolks, so that, in fairness to the owners of Nos. 1, 2 and 3 pens, I consider they also are entitled to receive recognition, to a greater extent, than Captain Barkley of what can be done in improving a grade flock by using purebred rams. The leading pen especially, owned by Mr. Harrop, of Cedar Hill, Victoria, is pronounced by the judges to be the best they had ever seen in this country.

D. V. DUNLOP,
Duncan, R.M.D. 1, B.C., September 20, 1927.

BLIND CORNERS

Sir—Within a few days we have had two accidents at what are called "blind corners," with in one case the loss of a valuable life.

The question that always arises is who is to blame? Many of our citizens feel that this question should be answered clearly so that some action can be taken to prevent such accidents in the future. Our municipal authorities may not have the means to prevent such accidents, but they should be able at least to notify owners, so that the continuation of the maintenance of this hedge or fence, after receipt of a notice, will cause the owner to feel the moral, if not legal, responsibility for the loss of a human life.

I feel sure that there are very few Victorians who would not sacrifice the vested rights that have rather than cause the suffering that is entailed by such accidents at "blind corners."

PROHIBITORY LEGISLATION

Sir—Your editorial, "Prohibitory Legislation," is clear and well stated. The essential facts involved in the problem are given without bias and, therefore, what you have written will appeal to every fair-minded citizen. There is a slight bearing on the question which is apparent to everyone, but which is not sufficiently stressed. "No man liveth to himself." We are all inevitably bound together. No student of economics will deny the strong vital influence of man upon man. Whether we will or no, all about us are better or are worse because of what we are and because of what we do. We are either selfish or generous. In this thought is the keynote of prohibitory legislation. And on this principle will such legislation stand or fall. We are either willing to deny ourselves the indulgence of liquor because of the welfare of our neighbor, or we prefer to say in the often-quoted words of a well-known man: "The law is a damper on the public good." The law is a damper on the public good. Do they not meet with general approval? The prohibitory laws are not perfect—far from it, but their intent is for the public welfare. For that reason every public-spirited and generously-minded man should observe these laws and should try to perfect them.

J. W. JOHNSON (New York).
Empress Hotel, Victoria, B.C., September 21, 1927.

NEWSPRINT INDUSTRY THREATENED

Sir—The amount of unmanufactured pulpwood is shipping to the United States this year will supply American paper manufacturers with low cost raw material sufficient to manufacture more than a million tons of newsprint. This paper, if made in Canada, would enable every one of our newsprint mills to operate at 100 per cent capacity instead of, as they are now doing, at eighty per cent and less. (Every month the percentage is being reduced by the incoming of new machines.) It would bring into Canada almost four times as much revenue as it now brings in shipping as pulpwood, practically all of the difference being distributed to Canadian workmen as wages. As it is at present it deprives Canadian workers of employment at home, but it furnished competing manufacturers abroad with the raw material to produce the market for the Canadian product.

Still more serious, the practice of the Canadian Government in permitting this wood to be exported in its unmanufactured state, without contributing even a penny to the public exchequer, is one of the chief contributing causes of the condition now confronting the Canadian newsprint industry and which, unless speedily righted, is likely to result in the industry's complete collapse. Such a collapse of Canada's second most important industry would be the worst financial calamity this country has ever experienced.

In the very near future when all these new paper machines are completed and seeking a market for product I can see nothing (unless the outflow of raw material is stopped) to prevent newsprint from dropping from its present price of $65 a ton to $55 or even $50, despite the artificial means now being employed to keep it up. Such a drop, coupled with the reduction in output, would put every newsprint mill in Canada on a non-profit basis, as is clearly evidenced by the recent closing of several sheets of the companies.

The prodigal use of pulpwood and its unrestricted exploitation for American consumption has had the effect of reducing the market price of groundwood pulp to around $10 a ton less than it costs most manufacturers to produce it. This is not only the paper manufacturers' hard hit by this practice, but so also are the groundwood mills which produce that grade of pulp for foreign or domestic use.

Despite these facts, the source of the pulpwood supply is daily becoming more remote, to such an extent that, even now, some of our mills are forced to go to far-away Anticosti Island and Newfoundland for their wood supply. Wood is at the present time being shipped from Newfoundland to Portland, Maine, and as far west as Oswego and Fulton, N.Y., a distance of more than a thousand miles.

In a short time the pinch in the wood supply will assert itself, and, when a wood famine ensues, the expansion of the paper-making industry will come to a stop and the price of paper will go up. Just at present, however, and for the next three or four years the condition of the industry will continue critical, as it is today, unless steps are taken to shut off the exportation of raw wood.

It has been suggested that, if the Canadian mills want this free-land wood, they should compete in the open market for this product of Canadian soil, but the price of pulpwood will be forced to such heights that neither country could afford to manufacture paper at anything like today's prices.

It is because of the incompetence or complete indifference of our politicians for the welfare of Canada that this serious situation is allowed to continue, or is there another reason?

It might be well for the Canadian people to give this serious question a little sober consideration before it is too late or it will soon be another case of locking the stable door after the horse is stolen.

FRANK J. D. BARNJUM,

MOTOR CAR BUILDING DECLINES IN CANADA

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—Production of automobiles in Canada during August totaled 12,526 cars, which was eighteen per cent under the 15,261 cars reported for August of a year ago.

For the eight months ending August, the Canadian production of automobiles totaled 104,011 in number, and the aggregate sales value, f.o.b. plant, was $96,757,955 against an output of 155,347 valued at $94,657,371 in the corresponding period of 1926.

CANADA'S PROGRESS

The material progress of Canada since 1867 has been astonishing, judged by any European standard. If Canadians sometimes express a certain dissatisfaction with their rate of national growth, it is because they look across the border and suppose that the United States is typical of modern civilization instead of being altogether exceptional in its amazingly rapid development. To English eyes, Canada, especially since 1900, seems to have progressed as fast as anyone could wish.

The western prairies have been filled up; British Columbia has become prosperous, with the development of fruit farming, the fisheries, and of industries dependent on hydro-electric power. Ontario and Quebec have increased both their agricultural and industrial activities to a very marked degree. The Canadian side of the St. Lawrence is now one of the busiest manufacturing districts. And the most recent developments in mining and the pulp industry in northern Quebec and northern Ontario are of the very greatest importance. It looks as if, within the next decade or two, the hitherto empty space in the very centre of the Dominion, to the north of Lake Superior, will be filled, as the western prairies have been, by a thriving population. And even then the whole extent of Canada's immense mineral resources will not have been explored, still less utilized. All that Canada needs is more people; the opportunities that she offers to any man who cares to work are unsurpassed.—London Daily Telegraph.

JOHNNY IN SEPTEMBER

Sis raves about September days, sun-filled, she says, but cool; but me, I cannot sing their praise, just on account of school! Dad calls the Autumn best of all the seasons of the year; but when it comes I can't recall a single cause for cheer. And Mother says the red and gold on all the fields and hills fills earth with loveliness untold, and through her being thrilled. They may be right; there seems to be some sense in what they claim; but Fall does not appeal to me, its joys I cannot name. Ask children, all the country 'round, and you can prove the rule; no joy in Autumn have they found, just on account of school. It seems too bad September days, so sunny, yet so cool, are spoiled for boys and girls always, just on account of school!

EX-SERVICE MEN ASK AMENDMENT

 For Patria Branch Will Forward
 Resolutions on Old Age Pensions to Provincial Command

 At the monthly meeting of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion, held in the clubhouse last night, the executive council was requested to draw up a resolution calling for an amendment to the Old Age Pensions Act by which a pension awarded for war disability should not be taken into account in granting the usual old age pension.
 This resolution will be sent to the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion.

 One meeting will be held each month during the winter, that being on the first Wednesday. The third Wednesday will be given over for social entertainment.
 The executive was authorized to appoint a permanent unemployment committee, to deal with unemployment among the members of the branch. A vote of condolence was passed to the relatives of the late Mr. C. Harmer.

 Comrade Macnicol, secretary of the Provincial Command, spoke of the work carried out by that body, and the establishment of new branches at Langford and Salt Spring Island. The formation of a branch at Pender Island is now under discussion.

 A resolution amending the by-laws by which all past presidents will be given ex-officio membership of the executive, was carried. A suggestion will be put forward to the Provincial Command that it use the radio to speak on matters of importance to ex-service men.

 Major Gus Lyons, M.P.P., amused
 the gathering by relating reminis-cences of his service overseas.

FIGURES SHOW CITY HEALTHY

 AUGUST HOLDS RECORD FOR LOWEST NUMBER OF INFEC-TIOUS DISEASE CASES

 Birth and Marriage Rate Higher and Death Lower, Says Dr.
 A. G. Price

 "The number of infectious diseases reported during the month of August was very much lower than the record for any previous month," Dr.
 A. G. Price, city health officer, states in his health report for last month.
 "There were nine cases of scarlet fever, eight of which occurred in two houses and were probably due to infection from outside the city."

 The report goes on to say that "the pulmonary tuberculosis condition in the city is satisfactory. There have only been sixteen deaths from this disease during the present year, and it is remarkable that no deaths of Asiatics from this cause have been recorded."

 "Vital statistics show a further improvement, both birth and marriage rates being higher and death rate lower. The infant mortality figures are satisfactory, the rate having decreased from 47 to 44.3 per 1,000. No viable infants died, the two deaths recorded being of infants incapable of sustaining life."

 The vital statistics contained in Dr. Price's report show that there were sixty-nine births in August, of which two were Asiatics. This brings the total for the year up to 473 and the rate 18.2 per 1,000 of population. The number of deaths in August totalled thirty-four, of which three were Asiatics. The total so far this year is 327, and the rate 12.6 per 1,000 of population. The number of marriages in August was thirty, bringing the total for the year up to 221 and the rate 8.9 per 1,000 of population.

CURE OF LEPERS IS PROGRESSING

 Dr. R. G. Cochrane, of the Mission to Lepers, Speaks of Results Obtained by Chaulmoogra Oil

 The treatment of lepers with chaulmoogra oil was meeting with considerable success in India, but it would take centuries and an organized system to get the dread disease under control in the Far Eastern countries. Dr. R. G. Cochrane, medical adviser to the Mission to Lepers, an interdenominational society, stated in an interview with The Colonist last night.

 Dr. Cochrane is en route to India to take up the work he was doing with the mission there two years ago. He is returning from London, where he has been doing postgraduate work. He addressed a gathering at St. Andrew's Church last night on the work being done by the mission. While en route to India he will inspect the stations in Korea and Japan to see what progress is being made in the work there.
 Before leaving for the Far East he will visit the Lazaretto on Bentinck Island, near the William Head quarantine station.

GOOD IN EARLY STAGES

 The chaulmoogra oil treatment was very good in early stages of leprosy. The disease was one which would eventually leave the body, but not before it had mutilated portions of the anatomy. It was simply a case of endeavoring to get the disease in early stage and cure the patient before mutilation set in.
 Over 300 patients had been cured in the forty leper stations of the mission in India. Dr. Cochrane stated.
 It would take centuries to get the

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

CURING "HEART TROUBLES"
 In the last three articles I have explained how heart disorders may be produced through overeating, gas pressure, chemical irritants, and reflex causes. Only a good diagnosis will determine whether one or more of these causes is responsible for producing any heart derangement from which you may be suffering.
 Without knowing your particular kind of trouble, it is nevertheless possible to lay down some simple rules which I am sure will prove helpful.

 No matter what the possible cause may be, it is a good plan to start the treatment by thoroughly cleansing the stomach and intestines of all food material. Give the intestinal canal a chance to rest for a few days. A fast may be taken with fruit juices, or only plain water may be used. A four or five-day fast will prove beneficial where the heart disorder is caused from the pressure of food, or gas from a chemical toxemia, or from reflex causes. The heart will have less work to do during this fasting period, so do not be afraid to fast because you feel weak. You will invariably feel stronger at the end of the short fast, as your heart will be able to function more efficiently.

 Your diet following the fast should be well regulated, both as to quality and quantity of food, as well as the selection of harmonious food combinations. Three small meals daily should be used, keeping the quantity of food to the minimum of the body's requirements. All "easy" foods must be avoided, such as onions, garlic, and even such slightly gassy food as turnips, and cooked cabbage must be avoided for a considerable period of time. The com-

ONE of the commonest obstacles to the average woman's peace-of-mind was the old-time "sanitary pad." Uncertain and unsafe, it has now been supplanted with scientific protection that is absolute.

With the amazing absorbency of 16 times its own weight in moisture, KOTEX, the new way, is 5 times as absorbent as the ordinary cotton pad. It is the only sanitary pad filled with Cellucotton wadding, the world's super-absorbent!

Also, it deodorizes while it acts. Also, it discards easily as tissue. No handles, no disposal embarrassment. Obtain at any store, 12 in a box. Note particularly that the package is marked KOTEX. If not, don't accept—it is not genuine Kotex.

MANDARES DEATH TO PROVE PLUCK

Does Sprint on Top of Moving Train Because Sweetheart Chided Him

LONDON, Sept. 20.—A man who climbed to the roof of a coach on a London, Midland and Mootish train and walked calmly from coach to coach as the train raced along at a speed of forty-five miles an hour narrowly escaped death near Stourton, Yorkshire.

An alarm was raised and the train stopped. When the dazed passenger was alleged to have said to the railway officials who questioned him:

"Dorothy said I had lost my nerve. I was running along the top of the train to see if I could drive the engine."

He was accused at Leeds later of obstructing the driver of the train. He said that his name was Cecil Storey Keyworth Smith, aged twenty-three, of the Fold, Embsay, near Skipton, and that he was going to London to join the Air Force.

Smith told the magistrates that he climbed out of the window soon after the train left Leeds to drive the engine, "because Dorothy said I had no pluck."

James Young, the engine driver, said that he glanced back in passing Wakefield Road signal box at Stourton, and saw a man crouching on the roof. "I immediately applied the brakes," he said, "and pulled the train to a standstill."

Smith, after the train was stopped, was handed over to the railway police, and Detective Ward said that when he saw Smith under the train, Smith said, "I got out of the train by the window. My idea was to drive the train. Dorothy said I had no pluck. I was going to join the Royal Air Force."

Mr. C. V. Walker, for the defence, said that Smith lived with a widowed mother. His father committed suicide, and the girl he was courting had, in a pique, said he had no nerve.

Defendant was bound over.

Premier Contradicts Alleged Statement

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 21.—Premier Gardiner and King's Printer J. W. Reid both denied today the assertion attributed to Canon Burd, of Prince Albert, and alleged to be made at the Anglican General Synod yesterday, that the official form of the province are being printed in English and French. There is no such practice in effect, they said.

He stated that the only course in the schools in this province which might be construed as having any tendency toward bilingualism was the fact that teachers were permitted to teach the children of French parents in that language during their first year in school.

It is admitted that some of the bulletin of the Health Department, or similar publications, may conceivably be printed in French and other languages for circulation among different colonies, but there are no other official government documents printed in French.

CANADA SHIPS MORE CARS TO AUSTRALIA

During the year ended June 30, 1927, 115,509 chassis, of an estimated total value of $12,242,478, were purchased from overseas sources of supply, writes Trade Commissioner D. H. Ross, Melbourne, in the forthcoming issue of The Commercial Intelligence Journal. Of that number only 12,746 came in with bodies attached (as complete cars). Nearly 90,000 of the chassis were shipped to Australia in separate parts and were assembled, or are to be assembled in that country.

In 1926 the total number of chassis imported was 88,591, valued at $10,393,413, and of bodies, 12,099, valued at $1,183,873.

Of the chassis, 12,251, valued at $851,092, were supplied by Canada, hence the 1927 figures show an increase of imports from the Dominion of 4,542 in number, and $137,084 in value.

ELECTRICITY TURNS A ROADSIDE PUDDLE INTO A DEATH TRAP

CRAYFORD, Kent.—A valuable Alsatian dog was killed in astonishing circumstances on the footpath in Crayford Road, Crayford. It was walking quietly by its owner's side when it began to howl, and fell on its side in a pool of water. It writhed in agony for a moment and then died.

Its owner, Mr. Mathew, of Crayford Way, bent over the dog's body, but he had no sooner touched it when he staggered away in pain.

A small crowd had gathered by this time, and it was noticed that those who stepped near the water in which the dog was lying received more or less severe electric shocks.

Then, to everyone's amazement, a small girl ran into the centre of the pool and stood by the dog unharmed.

Someone cried out that the child wore rubber-soled shoes, and the crowd again drew back in fear from the "electric pool."

A danger sign was marked out, and the police guarded the spot until an electrician arrived to clear up the mystery.

It was found that a strong electric current was leaking from an underground cable through the soil, which had been saturated by the recent heavy rains. Power was at once switched off.

Nearly 17,500 tons of coffee and 14,000 tons of sugar will be raised in Nicaragua this year.

AUSTRALIAN BAND HEARD HERE AGAIN

Musicians From "Down Under" Give Two Farewell Programmes at Crystal Garden

The Australian National Band appeared in Victoria yesterday for the third time, playing two programmes at the Crystal Garden for enthusiastic audiences. The seats were practically all taken for the evening performance, and Mr. Albert H. Baile, the conductor, and his musicians were given an ovation before they left to board the M. Aorangi, on which they sailed last night. Mr. Baile told a Colonist representative yesterday that it would probably be at least three years before the band could return here, as they have a long tour of arranged engagements ahead of them, including a visit to Africa. From there they will go to England to take part in the brass band championship competition.

Their programmes yesterday included several of the compositions which proved particularly popular on the occasion of their previous visits here, hymn tunes, war-time marching songs, jazz numbers, works by classical composers, and novelty numbers. The one omission which was generally regretted was the xylophonist, Mr. Harold Reid, whose wondrous art his chosen instrument it not yet forgotten. Mr. Arthur Stender, the brilliant cornettist, was heard in solos both at the afternoon and evening programmes, and although there were no trombone solos, per se, Mr. Charlie Collins' artistry was apparent in the fine part which this instrument took in several of the numbers included in the programme.

Brilliance, spirit, sense of fun and quick response to the baton characterized the playing throughout. While the work of the individual players, where it could be detected as an individual thing, indicated an ensemble of soloists, the ensemble work was at all times very fine. The boyish spirit of the band came to the surface in such numbers as "So's Your Old Lady," which has comical pantomime quality coupled with the playing of the melody. Ketybel's "In a Monastery Garden," although a novelty number, is an interesting composition, musically, and a great deal of atmosphere was created with organ, chimes, birds, and the voices of the monks singing the Kylie Elison interwoven. The impression given of a vast choir and many instruments was particularly clever in view of the relatively small number of performers. By request the band included in its afternoon performance "Nearer, My God, to Thee," where the brass instruments cleverly simulate the effect of an organ.

The evening programme was as follows: "Les Huguenots" (Meyerbeer); two jazz numbers, "Forgive Me" and "So's Your Old Lady"; cornet solo, "O Sole Mio" and Schubert "Serenade"; "Nearer, My God, to Thee"; Sanderson songs, "Drake Goes West," "My Dear Soul," "Captain Mac," "Friend of Mine," "Company Sergeant - Major," "Tired Hands," "Up From Somerset" and "Till"; "In a Monastery Garden" (Ketybel); and "Tipperary Land," a collection of popular war-time selections.

The evening programme was as follows: "March Brilliant" (Lt. Ord Hume); overture, "Barber of Seville" (Rossini); cornet solo, "Lost Chord" (Sullivan); selection from "Denora" (Meyerbeer); tone poem, "Labour and Love"; humoresque, "McGregor's Wedding" (Campbell); cornet duet, "Ida and Dot" (Losey); and Grand March, "Tannhauser."

DICKENS CLUB MEET TO BEGIN SEASON

Photograph of Inspector Francis Dickens, Author's Third Son, Presented to Society

The story of Francis Dickens, third son of Charles Dickens, was the subject of the first of the season's meetings of the Dickens Club, held at the home of Mr. Pontifex, 417 Niagara Street. At the opening of the meeting the president, on behalf of Mr. F. W. Godsal, presented the club with a photograph of Inspector Francis Dickens, taken at Fort Macleod in 1882. Mr. Godsal enclosed the following explanation, which was read to the members by the president:

"Inspector Francis Dickens, Northwest Mounted Police, was stationed at Fort Macleod, Northwest Territories, now in Alberta, when I struck that place about May 25, 1882. Fort Macleod was then on an island of the Old Man River, but the town of Macleod was built later about one and one-half miles distant. The photograph shows part of the old barracks, and in the guardroom there our monthly mail from Fort Benoit, on the Missouri River, in Montana, was sorted. We had to put United States stamps on our letters posted at Fort Macleod, or at Fort Calgary, 110 miles further north. Inspector Dickens was a favorite with the men of the force, who spoke of him as 'Little Dickie.' He was short in stature. When I drove into Fort Macleod from my ranch, about forty miles at the foot of the Rockies, near the Crow's Nest Pass, I generally took blankets with me, and on some occasions made down my bed on the floor in Dickens' quarters. He did well in the last Riel rebellion, holding Fort Pitt against the rebels. His father, Charles Dickens, does not appear to have cared for the son, for it is said that on one occasion he gave a list of his children to an enquiring friend, but omitted Francis, his attention being called to the omission, he replied: 'Oh, I do not count him.'"

"We often thought that Inspector Dickens would write a book, as he was in the habit of making notes in a pocketbook. He died, I believe, in the United States, after leaving the N.W.M.P. Police."

The club was aware of the meritorious defence of Fort Pitt, which Inspector Dickens had made during the second Riel rebellion, and expressed their gratitude to Mr.

Mrs. Whitehead read a paper on "Dickens and Democracy." Discussion of a silver tea, in aid of the Solarium, followed, and it was decided to hold a tea on October 25. Mrs. Carr offering her home for the purpose. A social half hour followed, during which Miss Shrapnel delighted the members with musical selections, and the hostess served refreshments. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Pontifex, and the meeting adjourned later than usual.

The next meeting will take place at the home of the secretary, Miss G. Fox, 1140 Burdett Avenue, on October 17.

HOSPITAL MEASURES EFFECT OF EXERCISE ON THE HUMAN HEART

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Interesting experiments to find the result to exercise on the rate of the pulse beats in normal people and in those suffering with heart disease have been carried out at Guy's Hospital, and the results are recorded in "Guy's Hospital Reports."

The subjects examined were made to step off and on a block thirteen inches high at the rate of six, twelve, eighteen, twenty-four and thirty times a minute. Six steps a minute were slightly easier than walking two and one-half miles an hour; twelve steps were more difficult than walking three and one-half miles an hour, and eighteen steps more difficult than walking over four and one-half miles.

It was found that after six steps off and on the block per minute for three minutes the average rise in the pulse rate in healthy persons was only five beats in the first minute after stopping. After twelve steps per minute equivalent to ordinary walking, the average rise was twenty beats. After eighteen steps per minute, equal to fast walking or easy bicycling, the rise was thirty-five beats.

After twenty-four steps, equivalent to ordinary bicycling or slow running, the average rise was fifty beats. In some, however, the increase of pulse beats was sixty-five. The results are regarded as of great use in judging the disability patients with heart disease and in deciding the amount of work or exercise they should attempt.

Among the facts revealed is that rapid rate of pulse when at rest is generally a sign of unfitness. The pulse rate in women averages ten beats per minute more than men when at rest, but increases equally in exercise.

The effect of training is shown by the following, says Dr. J. M. H. Campbell, who made the investigation:

The trained students could do twenty-four steps a minute more easily than the untrained could do eighteen, and more easily than the out-patients could do twelve steps. They could do thirty steps more easily than the others could do twenty-four steps.

FAMILY ENDOWMENT ACT NOW IN EFFECT

A new act entitled the Family Endowment Act came into operation in the State of New South Wales in July, writes Commercial Agent B. Millin, Sydney, in the forthcoming issue of The Commercial Intelligence Journal. A child for the purposes of the act means a legitimate child. The head of a family, who is earning an amount equal to the basic wage has just been declared—that is £4.50 per week—is entitled to claim £13 a year (or 5s per week) for each child in his family under the age of fourteen years. If, however, a man is earning more than the basic wage he is entitled to claim for only so much endowment as would bring his income up to the level of that of a man on the basic wage drawing endowment for a similar number of children to his own. The fund will be provided by employers of an amount equal to three per cent of the total amount of wages paid by private employers and statutory authorities of the State.

SHIRLEY, Sept. 21.—An enjoyable card party was held last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Mr. Alexander provided the musical part of the programme with very enjoyable violin selections. Refreshments were provided by the ladies of the Institute.

The next card party will be held on Thursday evening next, September 22, at the home of Mrs. J. Kirby.

"Invermuir," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clark, had a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire recently at about 7 a.m. Fortunately it had been raining all night and the shingles were wet when the roof caught fire inside, so the flames were held in check for some extent, till the occupants succeeded in overcoming them, but not before a considerable portion of the roof had been burned away.

It has the delicacy and fineness of chiffon; the strength and wearability of service stockings. No wonder it appeals instantly to women everywhere... Yes, it is silk to the tip top, and the famous reinforcement at heel and toe means extra wear.

Colors—from Paris—are chosen by Lucile herself to harmonize perfectly with this season's fashionable costume colors. That's why they are always right.

$2.00 Ask for No. 2250

Never before has there been a color change more violent than in the present mode of dress materials and leathers. In them Lucile finds inspiration to create new stocking shades that give the ultra smart set ensemble perfect color harmony. Holeproof offers them today—as always, months in advance.

Even the hem top is silk in this smart stocking. From tip to top you are assured of faultless beauty. Longer than the usual, which gives freedom and ease in wearing.

Today women choose stockings in shades they know are fashionably correct—are Paris-designed to meet the coming modes in shoes and dress materials. So Holeproof, in its colors, offers you the world-famous authority, Lucile, Paris. Each shade Lucile creates and sends exclusively to Holeproof. A new and all-important feature added to these stockings known to 2,000,000 women by their famous fashion points.

Exquisite clearness. In sheer weights clearness comes only through uniformly even thread. The lack of it in cheaper silks causes unsightly shadow rings. So at greater cost Holeproof selects silk judged the world's finest.

Superlative transparency, even in the heavier weights. There is no cloudiness, no streaking. First the silk is tested, then it undergoes the special Holeproof treatment.

No loose ends. Loose threads mar appearance. So Holeproof carefully trims the inside of each stocking by hand.

No imperfections. Style vanishes with imperfections. And here Holeproof safeguards you by nine separate inspections. It is a fact that few other fine hose are so uniformly perfect.

GENE AND JACK WILL BATTLE FOR CROWN TONIGHT

DEMPSEY IS DETERMINED TO STAGE GLORIOUS COMEBACK

Challenger Will Climb Into Ring at Heavyweight Title Scrap at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, Probably a Favorite in the Betting

Majority of Experts Think Gene Will Win

Over 150,000 Cheering Fans Will Witness This Unprecedented Struggle for Gold and Glory—Chicago Is Wild With Excitement

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—With its last legal barriers cleared today, and the city swarming with the greatest fight crowd of all time, the Dempsey-Tunney battle of dollars, open letters and mixed opinions, moves toward its climax of actual fight combat tomorrow night in Soldiers' Field spectacular setting.

Subjects of more debate than any two other gladiators in all ring history, Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey will meet in their return battle for the heavyweight championship of the world before a colorful crowd that is expected to shatter all records by numbering close to 150,000 and contributing to a gate of probably $2,750,000.

HISTORY-MAKING EVENT
In its attraction of worldwide interest in the fierce and bitter character of its preliminary debates, in the size of stakes involved—$1,450,000 for the two fighters—as well as the magnitude of the promotion enterprises, the second chapter of the Dempsey-Tunney fight has far outstripped any other event of its kind in history. So-called battles of the century within the past few years pale in comparison with proportions of this unprecedented struggle for gold and ring glory.

It will pit Tunney, the soldier, masterful boxer, and champion, against Dempsey, the plunger, personally magnetic slugger, badly beaten a year ago by his handsome foe, but now primed for the big act of the most sensational boxing drama the boxing game has ever known.

WHO WILL WIN?
Who will win? The answer to that question, eagerly sought and discussed everywhere by boxing fans, debated at the crossroads as well as on Michigan Avenue, Broadway and the Rue de la Paix, will be known between 8 and 10 o'clock tomorrow night, Chicago daylight time, when the ten-round championship match to a decision will hold the little square of limelight amid a cheering mass of fans.

So far as the strange contrasts of pre-battle speculation go, Dempsey will climb into the ring a probable favorite with the betting, personally magnetic slugger, badly beaten a year ago by his handsome foe, but now primed for the big act of the most sensational boxing drama the boxing game has ever known.

SALENT FIGHT FACTS
CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Salient facts of the Dempsey-Tunney pugilistic spectacle tomorrow night:

MAJORITY SAY TUNNEY
CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Opinions of seventy-two representative boxing writers gathered by the Associated Press on the outcome of tomorrow's heavyweight championship revealed a substantial majority favoring Gene Tunney.

Out of this array of critical talent, thirty-six expressed themselves as confident of a Tunney victory, while twenty-four picked Dempsey to regain the title. Ten refused to go on record one way or the other.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago tomorrow night is attracting great interest in British sporting circles, but so far as known little or no betting is being done on the event.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Fair and cool weather for the "Battle of Soldiers' Field," was forecast today by Professor Henry Cox, of the United States Weather Bureau.

JUDGE CRITICIZES
CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Conviction that the Gene Tunney-Jack Dempsey heavyweight championship bout last year in Philadelphia was in violation of a writ enjoining Dempsey from meeting anyone until he had fought Harry Wills was voiced today by Judge Harry Fisher, who presided at a renewal of the Coleman Club suit to force an accounting with Dempsey for alleged contract violation.

The court sharply criticized the action and attitude of Dempsey and his counsel in refusing to post a $100,000 bond as suggested yesterday by Judge Fisher, which would have permitted the court to continue the hearing until after tomorrow night's Tunney-Dempsey fight in Soldiers' Field.

"I think the decision not to give the bond is ill-advised and that the defendant is committing a serious mistake," warned the judge.

J. J. CORBETT IN DIFFERENT ROLE

"Gentleman Jim," Conqueror of John L. Sullivan, Among Reporters Tonight at Chicago Fight

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—When Gene Tunney, the scholarly heavyweight champion from Greenwich Village, climbs into the ring to face Jack Dempsey at Chicago the man who first made the Queensberry rules a topic of drawing-room conversation will be in a ring-side seat. That man, now recognized as probably the greatest authority on what's right and what's wrong in the "squared circle," is James J. Corbett.

Who back in 1892 knocked the heavyweight crown from the head of the famous John L. Sullivan. "Yours truly on the level."

For when the "Manassa Mauler" and "Gentleman Jim" start swapping left hooks for the amusement of the $30,000,000 crowd of fight fans, "Gentleman Jim" will go into action with a typewriter for Universal Service.

ENGLISH PLAYERS DEFEAT IRISHMEN ON SOCCER FIELD

NEWCASTLE, Eng., Sept. 21.—In an interleague soccer game here today between teams from the English and Irish Leagues, the former won by nine to one. These interleague games began in 1892 and of the twenty-nine matches between the leagues, England has won twenty-six, while three have been drawn.

How Principals in Tonight's Fight Compare in Measurements

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Gene Tunney will have the advantage of youth and height in his favor tomorrow night, when he crawls into the ring in Soldier Field to defend his heavyweight championship against Jack Dempsey, while the challenger will have reach and weight in his favor.

Their measurements, announced tonight, are as follows:

Woman Challenges Fight Winner to Endurance Contest

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The winner of Thursday night's meet in Chicago is challenged to an endurance contest by Dr. Winifred Sackville Stoner, founder of the League for Fostering Genius. Offering to prove that she has more stamina for useful pursuits than either Tunney or Dempsey, she proposes that the champion do his stuff at shadow boxing, knocking out, etc., while she plays musical instruments, rides a bicycle, drives a car, sews, knits, cooks, plays with children, crochets and composes music.

The first to succumb to exhaustion loses.

Saanich Thistles Oppose Five C's—16th Canadian Scottish Will Try Conclusions With Greenshirts

SATURDAY'S FIXTURES

All games will start at 3 p.m.

The feature soccer attraction on Saturday, undoubtedly by the Esquimalt-Victoria City affair at the Royal Athletic Park. Rated as two of the leading clubs in the city, they will undoubtedly provide an interesting contest. At Work Point, the 16th Canadian Scottish will make their debut in local soccer circles, when they oppose the Esquimalt Greenshirts. The third match of the day will be played at Beacon Hill when the Five C's, who this year came up from the junior league, meet the Saanich Thistles.

Equimault, who last year made an excellent showing behind veteran player of the pugilist game, will be confined in the league for the first season in soccer football. They have announced their eleven for the battle as follows: Strath, Dyer and Grant; Rickard, who is handling the sale of the team, will be assisted by Wilson, Clarkson, Harris, Warburton and Carey.

It is expected that the opening games will be keenly watched by large audiences.

YOUNG GIRL IS TEX'S BEST AIDE

Twenty-One-Year-Old Miss With Her Good Memory Officiates as Boss of Ticket Sales

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Tex Rickard's right hand "man" in handling the multitudinous details of the ticket sale for the Dempsey-Tunney fight, is a girl. She is Miss Naomi Lowensohn, just twenty-one. Two years ago, she had never seen a prize fight, but she is handling the sale of 100,000 odd seats in Soldiers' Field, and the $3,000,000 the public is expected to pass through the wickets.

THE SAANICH THISTLES
Saanich Thistles, who last year played their first season in senior company, will field practically the same team this season. Their line-up for Saturday's game with the Esquimalt Greenshirts is as follows: Hetherington, Harper and Price; Miller, Joe Crowe and Jim Crowe; Essler, Minnis, Burns, Saville and Ewing.

The Five C's are expected to field their last year's eleven, with perhaps a few changes.

The Victoria Wests have little or nothing to say as to their team for the opening match, but it is a known fact that a number of old-time stars, in addition to new players, will appear in the green sweaters of the club this year. The

DATE OF WEDDING IS DEPENDENT ON RESULT OF FIGHT

LONG BRANCH, N.J., Sept. 21.—If Jack Dempsey defeats Gene Tunney in Chicago tonight, Miss Grace Holden, twenty-one, of Somerville, N.J., will be a June bride next year. But if Tunney wins Miss Holden's marriage to Henry Piper, of this city, will be performed next January.

Miss Holden, a Dempsey fan, wants to be married in June, but Piper sees no reason for such a long wait. The result of the fight will decide the wedding date.

JACK DEMPSEY (Challenger)

GENE TUNNEY (Champion)

Rival Fighters Are Confident on Eve of Struggle

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—The statements of the fighters and their managers follow:

GENE TUNNEY (Champion)

"My first defence of my title finds me quite confident that I will be victorious in tomorrow night's contest with Jack Dempsey. I have reached the very peak of condition, and am without a bruise or hurt on the hour of battle.

"I am even more certain I will win than when I first engaged Dempsey at Philadelphia last year. I feel that as a result of another year's study and application, I have improved considerably, and will win without any great difficulty.

"I hope and expect our contest will be a fairly and cleanly waged battle which will merit the attention given it by the greatest crowd ever gathered to see a sporting event."

JACK DEMPSEY (Challenger)

"I am ready for Gene Tunney this time. I will win decisively. I think I am good enough now to finish Tunney inside of ten rounds. If it happens to last the limit, I am sure I will be far enough out in front to win the decision.

GAME EXPLAINED BY LOCAL COACH

W. E. Cook Explains Rules of Canadian Rugby for Fans—Tackles Below Waist

By W. E. COOK
Coach, U.C.T. Rugby Team

In Canadian Rugby the forwards on each side line out one yard apart and the team in possession of the ball is given three attempts called downs to advance the ball ten yards toward their opponents' goal. When a player carrying the ball is tackled or for any reason the ball ceases to advance, the referee blows his whistle.

The team in possession of the ball is allowed thirty seconds from the time the whistle was blown to get the ball into play. A team retains possession of the ball until they fail to make the necessary ten yards. When a team fails to advance the necessary ten yards on three successive downs the referee gives the ball to the opposing team.

EVADING A TACKLE
A player running with the ball in Canadian Rugby may attempt to evade a tackle by any of the following forms:

1. Hand off opposing tacklers.

2. Feint to pass the ball.

3. Changing direction suddenly by swerving.

4. Attempting to dodge.

5. Kicking the ball over the head of his opponent.

6. Crossing field kick to a member of his own team who is on side.

7. Passing the ball to a player who is particularly good at dodging; this player will evade tacklers and leave his own men uncovered.

8. Pivoting.

Only a limited number of players become adept at pivoting. The ball carrier pivots one leg away from a would-be tackler, throwing the leg next the tackler back and around in the opposite direction. When the player completes the turn he is over-balanced, which forces him to plunge forward and away from the grasp of his opponent. This feature of play is for much practice. When properly learned it is a great defence against the tackler.

In Canadian Rugby no player may be tackled who is not carrying the ball. All tackles must be made below the waist.

So when the two face each other at Chicago tonight, Tunney, as champion, will be able to insist on having the bandaging done in the open and on the square of the squared ring.

GENE TUNNEY (Champion)

"There is no question in my mind about the outcome of Gene Tunney's contest with Jack Dempsey. I feel very certain that Tunney will decisively defeat Dempsey."

LEO FLYNN
(Dempsey's Manager)
"I predict a knockout for Dempsey in three rounds if Tunney is mad enough about that C. can letter to start fighting at the first bell. If Tunney takes the defensive from the first bell, I may take Dempsey seven rounds."

TUNNEY IS FAST
I do not think he will be that lucky, for Tunney is a man who knows how to protect himself pretty well in the clinches. Nevertheless I do think Dempsey will get the breaks. Therefore, taking the odds into consideration, I think Dempsey will win the decision in the limit, ten rounds.

DE FOREST PICKS JACK DEMPSEY TO WIN OVER TUNNEY

Fight at Chicago Tonight Will Be on the Level, and Former Champion Will Regain Title by Decision at End of Ten Rounds, Famous Conditioner Predicts

Thinks Jack Will Be Lucky If He Beats Gene Via Knockout Route

By JIMMY DE FOREST

Famous conditioner of fighters and former trainer of Jack Dempsey.

(Copyright, 1927, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—"My last word on the Tunney-Dempsey fight is this: The fight will be on the level and Dempsey will win."

I pick Jack Dempsey to win his fight with Gene Tunney in ten rounds. If he does, he will be the first heavyweight champion of the world who ever regained his title from the man who took it from him.

The reasons why I think Dempsey will win are because he is 100 per cent better today as a fighter than he showed that night in Philadelphia when he lost his title, and Tunney, while he is as good as he was at Philadelphia, is not better.

Dempsey is a harder hitter than Tunney; he has more stamina and now he is a much better boxer than he was in Philadelphia. He is trained to the best possible condition he can attain; he is careful, full of confidence and determined to win.

MAYBE JACK CAN
Dempsey thinks he can knock out Tunney. Maybe he can, but he has to be lucky to do it. The breaks will have to be with him. I do not feel very enthusiastic over his chance to score a knockout, but a lucky break might give him that kind of a victory. I do not expect that Dempsey will make a rushing, slam-bang fight of it so much in the first few rounds. Rather I look for him to take it a bit more carefully, studying out his moves and striving for accuracy, waiting till he is sure he will land before he lets a punch go and maneuvering to get in close so that he can pump his heavy artillery into the body of his opponent.

I do not believe Dempsey will go walking into Tunney standing up straight like he did last year, but he will bore in with his legs bent slightly at the knees, on the balls of his feet, not on his toes nor flat-footed; that he will be fighting as he does in boxing, and that he will be better able to get to close quarters than he was before.

Pirates Will Open Crucial Series at Home With Giants

Pittsburgh, With a Lead of Three and a Half Games, Face New Yorkers in Four-Game Programme, Starting Today—St. Louis Have Fair Chance

With the National League pennant race nearing completion, the standing of the three leading clubs and the games yet to be played, are as follows:

Games	W.	L.	Pct.	to play
Pittsburgh	58	55	.515	11
New York	55	59	.486	10
St. Louis	53	59	.472	10

The New York Giants, second berth occupants of the National League, will open a four-game series in Pittsburgh today with the Pirates. Baseball fans term this the crucial test of the Corsairs. The winner of this series is looked upon as probable contender for the world's title series against the New York Yankees.

The Corsairs now require only eight triumphs in eleven remaining games to clinch the pennant. In the event the Cards make a clean sweep of ten on their schedule. Should the Giants win seven of their games left and the Cards a like number, the Pirates would need to win only five to nail the flag.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—Pittsburgh closed out the series with the Robins with a 4 to 2 victory today, thereby regaining a three and one-half games lead in the National pennant race as the Giants and Cardinals, who are tied for second place, were idle. John Miljus, former Brooklyn and Seattle player, who was purchased in midseason from Seattle, of the Pacific Coast League, by the Pirates, yielded only five hits against nine gathered off McWeeny, of the Robins. The Corsairs' attack was concentrated in the fourth inning when four singles and McWeeny's wildness allowed four runs to cross the plate.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The Yankees gave their worst fielding exhibition of the season here today and lost the opener of a series to Detroit by 6 to 1, running the Bengals' winning streak to seven. Sam Gibson pitched a strong game for the Tigers and had the New Yorkers shut out until Babe Ruth hit his fifty-fifth home run of the year in the ninth. Not only were the Yankees guilty of six errors, but all sorts of mental lapses cropped out.

COAST LEAGUE
SEATTLE, Sept. 21.—Oakland evened the series one-all with the Indians, while his teammates gathered five runs. Joe Brat-cher connected for a home run with one man on bases in the first inning to give the Oaks their first two scores.

Stretch Winning Streak
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21.—Los Angeles stretched its winning streak to seven straight games here today, defeating Portland, 6-2, in the series' opener behind the puzzling pitching of Hal Gardner, former University of Washington moundsman. Gardner, after being touched for two runs in the first inning, blanked the Beavers throughout the last eight frames. The Angels have won fifteen of their eighteen starts.

The Seals touched Hollister for nine hits, but were unable to convert them into more runs, while the Stars had three big innings, the first, fifth and eighth, when five, three, and four runs came over, respectively.

The Seals were leading when McDaniel's home run to tie the score in the ninth. Christian relieved Pilleite and began throwing away the game. Keating hurled for the Seals.

Invading Stars From France and Canada Making Excellent Showing in Quest of Women's Crown

MISS MACKENZIE SCORES EASY WIN

Mlle. de la Chaume, French and English Champion, Defeats Mrs. P. G. Higbie, Detroit, One Up

GARDEN CITY, N.Y., Sept. 21.—Invaders from Canada and France today pressed forward through the second round of match play toward the women's golfing championship of the United States, while Miss Glenna Collett, Providence, one of the strongest of the home-based hopes, met defeat and elimination. In a battle of ex-champions, Miss Collett was beaten by a margin of two up and one to play by Mrs. Alex. Surling Fraser, Ottawa, Ont.

The other invaders to come through were Miss Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto, champion of the Dominion, and Mlle. Simone Thiebaud de la Chaume, of France, champion of her own country and England. While Miss Mackenzie scored an easy victory at four and two over Miss H. Payson, Portland, Me., Mlle. de la Chaume had trouble making out a one up victory over Mrs. P. G. Higbie, of Detroit.

By winning, the little French girl and the veteran, Mrs. Fraser, entered the same third round bracket, and will fight it out tomorrow in what promises to be one of the most interesting matches of the tournament. Miss Ada Mackenzie meets Miss V. Van Wile, of Chicago.

Scientific School of Fighting Claims Gene
Walter Trumbull Says Tunney Should Be More Formidable Than in His Last Ring Bout—Dempsey Has a Mighty Left Hook

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Writing about some of the peculiarities of Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney, Walter Trumbull says: There is, among the experts, continual reference to Jack Dempsey's advanced age. The poor old Manassas Mauler was thirty-two on the twenty-fourth day of last June. That assuredly is getting along toward the sere and yellow leaf. Caesar was not thirty when he won the championship of Gaul. Charlemagne was no older when he held the French and German title. Cortez, at thirty, was heavyweight champion of Mexico. Dempsey himself was at top form at an even earlier age.

Yet there may still be hope. Napoleon had reached the advanced age of thirty-three before he was champion of the world, excluding England and Russia. And Thomas Jefferson was just as ancient a landmark when he wrote the Declaration of Independence. I mention this because I have noticed no lessening of Dempsey's literary ability. Physically and mentally he seems to have something left.

And among the things the old man has left is a left hook. Training on la waula is not the best preparation for a bout—and that is just what Dempsey did at Philadelphia. Yet he did not appear to fight a great deal better against Sharkey than against Tunney. The difference was largely that Tunney was tougher, smarter and better opponent. Gene won because he was the better man.

Dempsey should be more formidable tonight at Chicago than he was at the Yankee Stadium. His confidence in himself has been restored. And he has a smart handler in Leo P. Flynn.

But Tunney also should be more formidable. Because of his method of boxing, his mode of life and his temperament, a year's absence from the ring is not likely to affect him as it might another.

Tunney belongs to the scientific school of fighting, the school of such men as Jim Corbett, Peter Jackson, Jack Johnson, Kid McCoy, Tommy Ryan, Packey McFarland, Jack O'Brien, Joe Gans, Jack Britton and Benny Leonard. An instinctive fighter does little in a gymnasium except sharpen his reflexes. A scientific fighter not only trains his muscles there, but also trains his mind. And that is Tunney's pet theory—that a man must be on edge mentally, as well as physically, for a fight.

GOLFERS REACH THIRD ROUND

NEWS OF THE WORLD'S 1,000 GUINEAS PURSE SOUGHT BY BIG FIELD

Alexander Herd, 1926 Winner, Is Defeated by Charles Whitcombe, 2 and 1

WALTON HEATH, Tadworth, Eng., Sept. 21.—Rain and mist prevailed for the second and third round of the News of the World's 1,000 guineas professional golf tournament played here today.

In the second round Ernest Whitcombe, of Meyrick Park, eliminated B. Hodson, of Newport, five and three. The winner turned in six holes on his card. Charles Whitcombe defeated L. Herrington, of Abbeville, five and three; James Baird, of Westwell, defeated Colonel Wynbly, one up; Tom Williamson defeated Ted Ray, one up.

The remaining winners in the third round were: W. Robertson, A. Miles, of Merton Park; Archie Compston and Fred Robson, of Coblen Beach.

Chicago City Series Will Be Forgotten
CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—There will be no city series between the Cubs and White Sox this year, President Veeck, of the Cubs, deciding yesterday not to challenge for the Chicago title.

The season of 1927 contained so many splendid possibilities that any series other than a world series would be an ill-fitting climax," Mr. Veeck said.

Radio Fight Fans Will Number Many Millions Tonight

World Broadcast Will Be Used for Tunney-Dempsey Battle—Daily Colonist Will Present Bout Round by Round Over Station C.F.C.T.—First Results at 6:30 P.M.

While 150,000 fight fans are seated in the high stadium at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, witnessing the fistic gladiators, Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey, exchanging wallops for the world's heavyweight crown, it is estimated that another audience of millions will listen to the fight round by round over the radio.

Victoria radio fans will be afforded every opportunity of receiving the fight, and even the owner of the smallest crystal set will be able to get the results. The Daily Colonist will broadcast the bout round by round over Station C.F.C.T., starting at 6:30 p.m.

Those not fortunate enough to own a radio will be able to hear the results in front of The Colonist Office, where they will be received by courtesy of Kent's Music House. A large number of radio houses throughout the city will also be receiving the bout over different Pacific Coast stations.

EXTENSIVE BROADCAST

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 21.—The most extensive world-wide broadcast ever attempted has been arranged for the Tunney-Dempsey fight here tomorrow night. The National Broadcasting Company has been granted the exclusive right to broadcast the fight to the outside world. Rickard said, under the sponsorship of the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Under the agreement with the Illinois Boxing Commission by which the fight was brought to Chicago, permission to broadcast the event was granted to some Chicago stations, but the National Broadcasting Company is to control the chain broadcast.

"Interest in the fight is keen in Europe, Central and South America and Australia," Rickard said. The new short-wave system will be used to send Graham McNamee's ringside description to foreign countries. Of course the great difference in time will be an important factor, as it will probably be between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning in Europe, and when we cross the international date line in the Pacific, McNamee will be talking into the next day.

LIST OF STATIONS

Rickard said that M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting Company, had reported the following stations as having arranged for the fight: WEAF and WJZ, New York; WEEI and WBZ, Boston; WBZA, Springfield, Mass.; WTIC, Hartford, Conn.; WJAR, Providence, R.I.; WTAM, Rochester, N.Y.; WTAG, Worcester, Mass.; WCSH, Portland, Maine; WPT, Philadelphia; WEAL, Baltimore; WRC, Washington; WGV, Schenectady, N.Y.; WGR, Buffalo; WTAM, Cleveland; WJR and WWJ, Detroit; WLW and WSAI, Cincinnati; WTMD, Milwaukee; KSD, St. Louis.

The House of Rogues

By CHRISTOPHER B. BOOTH

CHAPTER II. THE HOUSE WITH A PAST

Houses have personality; some of them, true enough, are drab and uninteresting, architectural nonentities like dull and commonplace people, but there was something about the solemn bulk of the mansion presiding autocratically at the head of Pocket Cove which enquired instant attention and intrigued a persistent curiosity.

The style of architecture made the place appear much more ancient than it was; at a little distance one would have thought it an abandoned ruin, left to neglect and decay. Moss and vines had claimed the stone exterior and the stones themselves gave off the color of great age. Upon closer approach, however, this first impression of abandoned desolation was dispelled. The lawn was fresh with the touch of a capable landscape gardener. Crouching back of the house itself was a new three-car garage with accommodations for the chauffeur and his family, if he happened to possess one. New walks had been laid down by the shore, where the lawn dipped towards the cove, the private pier and the boat-house had been repaired with an almost lavish disregard for cost.

It was apparent that "The House of Rogues," as the old place had been nicknamed in the village, had come into the hands of a rich owner who was occupying it as a summer residence. Perhaps it was a whim, the purchase of this queer house which reminded one of a glum old hermit, but John Strawn had plenty of money to gratify his whims.

Although in New York, but a hundred miles away, a tortured humanity sweated beneath a blanket of superheated humidity, this section of Long Island, where the tapering finger of land points far out into the Atlantic, was cool with the fresh, languid breath of the sea. It was evening and "The House of Rogues" was ablaze with a prodigality of illumination. It didn't seem quite right, an electric lighting plant here; it seemed that it had been repaired especially for the use of candles. Such a modern thing as electricity was an incongruity that no amount of electrical ingenuity could harmonize.

John Strawn, the new owner of the old house, and his guests were at dinner, the latter having arrived just before dusk. There was absent that careless bon vivant which properly belongs to week-end parties; perhaps it was the almost cathedral atmosphere of the long, high dining-room with its walnut walls reaching up to the arched, carved ceiling of the same dark wood. It was a gorgeous, costly room, but a solemn one, the flat tone of it broken only by the salient gleam of the white tablecloth and the glitter of the silver as it reflected the lights of the candelabrum which had been modernized with electricity.

John Strawn was not just the figure that one would have selected for that high-backed, hand-carved chair at the head of the table, for one pictured in that seat a tall, august personage, grim and austere like the house over which he ruled. While a very rich man, Strawn was not a "personage." Neither was he tall nor austere.

Magistrate—"How often have you been here before?"
Prisoner—"I thought your honor was doin' the scorin'."

gining to wear the flabby brand of over-fed gluttony.

At Strawn's right was Polly Eastman, just entering her twenties. She was dark-eyed but fair of hair and skin, that rather startling combination of blonde and brunette. The lights from the candelabrum flooded down upon her head, transmuting the fine-spun strands into the texture of gold.

Although entirely aware that Mrs. Westbury Eastman was throwing Polly at his head, Strawn felt no resentment. Polly was a pretty girl, a charming girl, and she had—youth. John Strawn had about made up his mind to marry her.

He leaned toward her, smiling. "You haven't told me, Polly," he said, "what you think of my house."

Polly Eastman was always a frank little person, a quality which often distressed her mother.

"It isn't a house, it's a tomb!" she exclaimed. "There is something so gloomy, shivery and depressing about it."

New Westbury Eastman, fearing the slightest word that might offend this rich man for whom she was campaigning as a son-in-law, gave her daughter a look of stern reproof. She was a large, ample-bosomed determined-looking woman, Mrs. Eastman.

"Nonsense!" she protested. "It's a wonderful old house, Mr. Strawn; a wonderful house. It must have cost a fortune." This last observation was by way of being an index to her character; for her mercenary mind anything costly was "wonderful."

She lifted her long, thin fingers and stared crushingly at her daughter again.

Strawn laughed good naturedly. "Don't you be afraid to be frank, Polly," he chuckled; "it's a trait that I admire. It is a solemn sort of a place, but—I'm sorry you don't like it." His tone was so grave, so genuine with regret, that Mrs. Vera Kingslake, the third woman guest, gave a start and bit her lip.

Mrs. Kingslake, herself angling for John Strawn, had naturally been aware that Mrs. Eastman wanted Strawn as Polly's husband, but it had not seriously occurred to her that she had a serious rival. She was suddenly aware that her own plans were in danger, but gave no outward sign of her perturbation.

Paul Grimshaw, Strawn's nephew, was drinking his wine with just a suspicion of eagerness, as if he were overly fond of it. He was a rather sallow young man, with a loose mouth and wore a smallish mustache, the tips waxed to tight, upturning points.

"I think that both Mrs. Eastman and Polly are right," he offered. "It is, in its way, a wonderful old house and it would take a great deal of money to replace it. But there is a gloomy atmosphere about it; this dining room, for example, is—"

"Like a church," broke in Mrs. Kingslake. "When I touch my wine here, I have the feeling that I am at communion."

"Come now!" laughed Grimshaw. "I'll bet money that you haven't been inside a church recently enough to have any vivid memories of the experience." Mrs. Kingslake, a fascinating widow of thirty, was of the worldly type and not known to have any pronounced religious leanings. She laughed, too.

"Just a figure of speech," she admitted, "but you'll have to admit that it's a terribly gloomy place for a lively dinner. It's as if the man who built the house looked upon dining as a solemn rite."

"A bit more of this," said Grimshaw, with a wink as he touched the stem of his wine glass, "and we'll forget the solemn atmosphere. Great stuff, older than the house itself. Just one solitary case of it hidden away in the cellar."

"A perfectly wonderful house!" murmured Mrs. Eastman. "Such gorgeous furnishings, too!"

"The place took my fancy the minute I saw it," said John Strawn. "It had been vacant for quite a long time—fifteen years. I got it at a bargain. I don't mind saying what I paid for it—an even thirty thousand."

"How absurdly and ridiculously cheap!" gushed Mrs. Eastman. "What a bargain finder you are, Mr. Strawn. The furnishings alone are surely worth that."

Strawn nodded. "They are; a great deal more. Of course I have had to replace some things, the carpets, hangings and things of that sort, but I consider that I got it cheap even if I did spend a pretty penny in renovating. You see, the price of everything is fixed by the rule of supply and demand. It isn't a place that would appeal to everyone."

"And not everyone," spoke up Paul Grimshaw, "wants to live in a house that was once a crook's hangout."

"What!" gasped Polly. "A crook's hangout?"

"How preposterous!" scoffed Polly's mother. "Of course Paul is joking."

"Perhaps 'hangout' is too crude a word," smiled John Strawn, "but that's just what it amounts to. In the village they call this place of mine 'The House of Rogues.' A nickname as odd as the house itself, eh?"

"How deliciously shocking!" exclaimed Mrs. Kingslake. "I dearly love to hear about criminals."

(To Be Continued.)

CINEMA PROMOTERS SENT UP FOR TRIAL

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21.—Pay Lear and J. A. Anderson, promoters of the National Cinema Studio Syndicate, charged with conspiracy in connection with the floating of the film "The House of Rogues," were formally committed by Magistrate Shaw to stand trial in a higher court.

The accused were alleged to have made certain statements as to money said to be at their disposal in England when a certain sum had been subscribed here, this statement, which was being used for the purpose of interesting local capital.

The information was laid by Mrs. Bertha Chippendale, who was stated to have invested money in the concern.

Chinese Offer Reward For Arrest of Bandit

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21.—That Quong Shong Lan, whose name was before given as Quong Fon, was killed by a white bandit in the 300 block, Pender Street East, at 2 a.m. Sunday, was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury yesterday.

A reward of $1,500 for the arrest and conviction of the bandit has been posted by the Lung Kong Kung Shaw Association.

Because of the rage for greyhound racing in England, greyhounds are being sold for as high as $125 each.

AMUSEMENTS

THE SCREEN
Capitol—"The Cat and the Canary," starring Laura La Plante.
Columbia—"Hoot Gibson in 'The Flaming Frontier.'" Dominion—"The Unknown," starring Lon Chaney.
Playhouse—"For the Love of Mike," with George Sidney, Ford Sterling and Ben Lyon.

THE STAGE
Coliseum—Vaudeville.
Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

DOMINION Lon Chaney learned THEATRE to tie a four-in-hand necktie with his toes. He learned to throw knives so accurately with his feet that he could hurl a ring of steel around the form of Joan Crawford without so much as scratching the lady, shoot the spots out of playing cards with a rifle, and eat, drink, and write with the aid of his lower extremities. Chaney had to learn all these strange tricks of an "armless wonder" of a circus—and learn them so well that he could duplicate the act of one of these strange performers, for his latest role on the screen, as the uncanny sideshow freak in "The Unknown," now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

PLAYHOUSE Ben Lyon, who in THEATRE his last pictures has run the gamut from a Roman gladiator to a modern caveman, has a new and striking type of role in "For the Love of Mike," the new Robert Kane comedy-drama now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. In this latest piece, in which he is co-starred with Ford Sterling, George Sidney, Hugh Cameron, and Claudette Colbert, Lyon plays a tough East Side kid, who is brought up by three foster fathers, who eventually send him to college. The transition of the gutter kid to the polished captain of the Yale crew, and the conflict of his affections between his childhood sweetheart, a little Italian girl of the neighborhood, and the Ritz blonde he meets on Fifth Avenue, form the plot of this most unusual film.

COLUMBIA Hoot Gibson, star of THEATRE "The Flaming Frontier," numbers hundreds of Indians among his friends and speaks and understands the language of nearly all the Western tribes. During the filming of "The Flaming Frontier," Universal's huge Western spectacle, now showing at the Columbia Theatre, thousands of Indians were employed and Gibson renewed acquaintances with many whom he had known on the range in Wild West shows in former years.

Hoot Gibson, because of his experience with horses, could very well have gone into the cavalry and purchased horses for the army when the U.S. entered the World War, but Hoot, judging by what he did, wanted action. Gibson did not wait for the draft to get him, but joined up in the tank corps, and as anyone knows who did it, coping up inside a tank was not the easiest job in the army.

CAPITOL "The Cat and the Canary," the Universal super mystery drama, starring Laura La Plante, is the feature attraction at the Capitol today. As a stage play "The Cat and the Canary" was conceded to be one of the greatest mystery plays ever written, and according to critics, the film version is even more mysterious than the play. The plot hinges about the murder in an unoccupied country residence where six persons have gone at the hour of midnight to try the reading of a will. Any one of the main characters might be the murderer and suspicion falls on first one and then the other. The logical though unusual ending is one that is impossible for the audience to foretell. On the stage are Bob Witt, the ukulele artist de luxe; Harriet Murtion coloratura soprano, in song selection, and Diggon's Creations in Dennison's Crepe Paper, twelve living models in a unique and spectacular presentation, introducing Irene Minter, artist pupil of Miss Mona Jewell, in a dainty dance novelty.

COLISEUM A request for some THEATRE freak accident insurance was called to Lloyd's of London by Frank E. Woods, who supervised the filming of "Richard, the Lion-Hearted," now showing at the Coliseum Theatre. Clarence Geldert, who plays the role of "Sir Conrade de Montserratt" in the production, refused to continue in the performance unless the authors trio would insure him against "canine accidents."

Sir Conrade is a culprit Crusader who is scented out by a blood hound. "Rex," a remarkably intelligent hound, and Geldert had been working several hours a day together, respectively, pursuing and escaping from each other. The big surprise at the Coliseum Theatre this week is the vaudeville, which is of an exceptionally high class calibre. The opening act is a little girl dancer, who is scoring quite a hit; she is a pupil of Mona Jewell. Next comes George Durham in a singing and

STEAMSHIP KYLE BACK FROM SEARCH

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 21.—The Newfoundland steamer Kyle, chartered to make a search for the lost transatlantic monoplane Old Glory, arrived last night at Bay Roberts on the east coast, bringing part of the wreckage of the plane.

The Kyle brought back a section of the storm battered wing and fuselage of the monoplane.

Earlier yesterday the steamer Super City, chartered by newspapermen working in the interests of William Randolph Hearst, backer of the ill-fated flight of the Old Glory, put out to sea from here, without waiting for the arrival of the Kyle.

The Silver City carried sealed orders and the course the ship will take was not disclosed. Captain Sidney Bennett, local aviator, was aboard.

Falling twenty feet head first from a window, a baby of Peckham, England, was picked up unhurt.

NEW FERRY TO HASTEN WORK

Nanaimo Dock Improvement Will Be Necessary When Larger Ferry Arrives in May

PLAN ROADWAY TO MALASPINA HOTEL

The prospective extension of the Vancouver-Nanaimo ferry service, when the new ferry steamer arrives in May, and the desire of the Nanaimo Community Hotel Company for direct connection with the wharf over the lands at the rear of the new hotel, will bring to the front a policy of development at the property which will be of considerable importance.

What steps will be taken, according to Captain J. W. Troup, manager of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, are yet to be determined. The company desires extension of the wharf to enable two ships of the Princess fleet to berth simultaneously in comfort, and also some improvement on the elevator system for handling motor cars coming off the steamer.

Until further details are worked out, the character of the wharf improvements will be left unsettled, but it is assumed they will be carried out before the new ferry reaches here from Scotland next Spring.

Meanwhile it is expected earlier action will be taken with the road roadway approach to the wharf from the steamer, in order to facilitate the handling of baggage of guests to the Malaspina Hotel.

TO BROADCAST CHICAGO FIGHT

National Broadcasting Company Will Operate Direct From Ringside

The National Broadcasting Company has a contract granting them exclusive rights for broadcasting direct from the ringside at Chicago tonight the Dempsey-Tunney fight, according to Merlin Hall Aylesworth, president of the company.

The contract was made between the Getz public committee, representing the city of Chicago, Tex Rickard, promoter of the fight, and the South Park Board, operators of Soldiers' Field where the fight will be held.

More than sixty stations in all parts of the United States and Canada, said Aylesworth, will be connected by telephone wire to Graham McNamee's microphone at the ringside. This is by far the largest hook-up of stations ever attempted. The broadcast is under the sponsorship of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers.

Stations of the National Broadcasting Company comprising the Pacific Coast Network that will broadcast the fight are: KPOA and KOMO at Seattle, KGW at Portland, KHQ at Spokane, KPO at San Francisco, KGO at Oakland, and KFI at Los Angeles.

WANT HEAD MOVED TO BODY

A plan to move the head of Simon of Sudbury, one of the statesmen-archbishops of the Middle Ages, from its present resting place in St. Gregory's Church, Sudbury, England, to Canterbury, where the body is interred, has caused a lively discussion. Sudbury is proud of the possession of the head of the man who was executed without trial by rioters during Wat Tyler's Rebellion, and so far has refused to give it up.

REPLY MADE TO SYNOD CHARGES

MINISTER OF IMMIGRATION AND HIGH COMMISSIONER
MAKE STATEMENTS

Position Taken by Both Is That Attitude of Department Has Been Misrepresented

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—"A tissue of misrepresentations" was the characterization of Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, of strong criticisms voiced at the general synod of the Anglican Church yesterday at Kingston, of the immigration policy of the Government. Hon. Forke expressed considerable surprise that such statements as were made by responsible officers of the Anglican Church should have been broadcast, and said that he is preparing a statement for publication with regard to the assertions made. With regard to one assertion that the Roman Catholic Church had placed priests at strategic points, the minister said that was a matter over which the Government has no control, and if other religious bodies wish to follow and similarly shepherd their own adherents there is nothing to stop them. On the financial aspects raised, Hon. Mr. Forke says he will issue a statement detailing the exact situation.

MR. LARKIN'S STATEMENT
TORONTO, Sept. 21.—Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London, who is visiting Canada, today made the following statement in regard to the criticisms of Dr. R. A. Moore, of Halifax, N.S., of the attitude of the High Commissioner in regard to British emigration to Canada. Dr. Moore stated that Mr. Larkin, in an interview with him in London had said: "The trouble was not to get people to come to Canada but to keep them out."

The commissioner's statement follows: "I noticed the statement made at the synod by a Dr. Moore, of Halifax, who visited the London office and had an interview with me. His proposition was that he should travel throughout Great Britain and lecture on Canadian affairs, his expenses to be paid by the Canadian Government. In other words he wanted a job. I told Dr. Moore that I had no authority, nor had I any money to engage him for such work. That part of his story is true, but what follows, I am sorry to say, is made out of whole cloth, as the Hon. Mr. Forke will tell you. Unfortunately, in London, we are troubled with dozens of applicants like Dr. Moore who want to travel about the British Isles at the expense of the Canadian Government, and who get quite angry if we can not employ them."

DEPARTMENT IS GIVEN THANKS

Letter From Ottawa Conveys Appreciation for Reception Accorded Poultry Men

A letter received from Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa, conveys to Hon. E. D. Barrow and his Department the sincere thanks of the Department of Agriculture of the Dominion for the many courtesies extended to the International Poultry party which visited the province recently, following the World's Poultry Show held at Ottawa.

The letter conveys the pleasure that was felt by all members of the party at the kindness shown them in British Columbia. It is further intimated in the letter that they gave expression to the immensity and divergence of the possibilities that existed in the Dominion.

It is known that during the stay here many of the delegates expressed the opinion that this was the prettiest of the places visited. This view, in fact, was almost unanimous among them.

A man like Mr. Thomas Barron, of Lancashire, England, who is noted all over the world as a poultry raiser, expressed the opinion that the Pacific Coast was an ideal place for poultry raising. The only lack in this connection, he pointed out, was the matter of population.
